Romantic Life Of Missionary In West Ended

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20.—A romantic life in the history of missions to Indians in the Qu'Appelle Valley, Rev. Dr. Hugh McKay, eighty-four, died at his home here tonight. He had lived in Winnipeg since 1924. A native of Oxford County, Ontario, Dr. McKay had been a resident of the West since 1884. In 1885, during the Northwest Rebellion, Dr. McKay made an arduous journey afoot from Broadview, Sask., to Round Lake, where on the reserve he faced scores of painted and feathered Indians, who were preparing to take the warpath. Accepting his counsel, the redmen returned to their homes and consequently the Indians of the Round Lake reserve took no part in the rebellion. Dr. McKay was a moderator of the old Manitoba and Northwest Presbyterian synod. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss S. P. Salmark, of Whitewood, Sask.

Whites Warn Filipinos To Leave Orchard Valley In State of Washington

Cannery Employees Compelled to Leave—Whites Determined That Transpacific Laborers Shall Not Be Engaged in Work of Harvesting Fruit Crops

Threats of Physical Violence Made At Gatherings in Wenatchee and Omak

WENATCHEE, Wash., Sept. 20.—Determined that Filipino laborers should not be hired in this valley and in orchards near Omak, in Okanogan County, mobs of white laborers have threatened the Filipinos, warning them that, should they stay here, they will be physically escorted from the county. At Wenatchee a mob of 200 white laborers, many of them itinerant help, warned a group of twenty-two Filipinos brought here to work nights in a cannery. The group left today. Many of them were said to be completely out of funds. At Omak a mob of 150 whites had threatened the Filipino laborers, telling them that, should they stay there any longer, they would be forcibly compelled to leave. No violence has taken place, although threats of mob attacks were made at both meetings.

Plane to Leave On Search for Godfrey Party

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Sept. 20.—A seaplane, piloted by Captain T. Mercer, Royal Canadian Air Force, will leave the Ladder Lake air base, Northern Saskatchewan, tomorrow morning, in search of Squadron Leader E. A. Godfrey, who with three companions, is missing in the Peace River district. Radio reports from the Ladder Lake station tonight said that the relief plane would proceed via Port McMurray to Chipewyan and cruise over the Peace River district. Squadron Leader Godfrey has been missing since Sunday. Since then no direct word has been received from the party, though there have been rumors that the seaplane was wrecked in Peace River, and that the airmen escaped uninjured. The rumors, however, remain unverified.

LORD PEEL FED CITY ON DUCK

ANECDOTES RELATED AT CHEERFUL LUNCHEON TO PARLIAMENTARIANS
Saskatchewan Acting Premier Also Entertains Audience at Regina Functions

REGINA, Sept. 20.—Viscount Peel once fed Regina on duck for nearly a week. He told the story today to a delighted audience at the luncheon given by the Government of Saskatchewan in honor of the delegates to the Empire Parliamentary Association. Lord Peel related how twenty years ago he shot ducks in Qu'Appelle Valley. He had shot so many different kinds of ducks, hundreds of ducks, that the Regina of those days must have fed on them for nearly a week. "But they didn't give me the freedom of the city," he said mournfully. "Perhaps they were tired of eating duck."

MR. IRVIN COBB CLAIMS STATUS

Humorist Is Elected Member of Railway Ticket Agents—Suitable Candidate

JASPER, Alta., Sept. 20.—Irvin S. Cobb, and Bob Davis of the New York Sun, are now authorized to write, punch and route their own mail. Cobb and Davis are members of the Association of Railway Ticket Agents here today, both of whom were unanimously elected members of this organization, whose members spent the day at Jasper Park Lodge en route east from Seattle, where they held their annual convention. In his speech of acceptance, Mr. Cobb said: "Nobody more richly deserves membership in this organization than I, since no one has suffered more than I at the hands of the railway ticket agents of America. Nobody, except myself, knows less than ticket agents do about where railroads go and how to get to places. I feel, therefore, that I am fully qualified, in amount of my ignorance, to become one of you."

AIR EXPRESS PLANE COMPLETES FULL TRIP

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20.—W. L. Brintnell, who last week blazed a new passenger and express route between Winnipeg and Prairie centers via a de Havilland airplane, reached the city at 1:35 o'clock this afternoon with two passengers and several parcels of mail for local citizens. Brintnell took off from Saskatoon at 10 o'clock this morning, local time, on the last leg of his 800-mile journey from Calgary to Winnipeg. The passengers in the machine were Mrs. R. Stephenson and a son of Paul Dow, Winnipeg.

NOTE OF WARNING

"I would sound a note of caution, however. In our present prosperity we must keep our feet on the ground. It would be unfortunate anything in the nature of a real estate or land boom should take place."

Asked his opinion with regard to mining speculation, Mr. McLeod said in his view appeared to be that speculation was largely being done by those who could afford to take chance, and that a considerable amount of outside capital was being poured into Canada for mining investment.

C. Boyce, K.C., of Ottawa, has been instructed by message from Hon. R. H. Pooley, K.C., Attorney-General, to appear before the Tariff Advisory Board on that occasion, and protest the increase.

COLLIERIES OPPOSE

Word received from the collieries has been to the effect that it is felt that the move, if granted, would be to the disadvantage of the trade in British Columbia. Acting upon this information, the situation has been placed before Mr. Boyce by the Attorney-General with the request that he enter an objection to the change sought by the Nova Scotia operators. It is pointed out that there is a very limited quantity of bituminous coal imported into Canada from the United States, while from this province the imports of this quality by the United States from British Columbia are very substantial, and the invoking of the Portland Tariff under an increased duty rate would be very serious to the coal trade of British Columbia.

HONOLULU BOY IS FOUND DEAD

BODY OF KIDNAPPED SON OF BANKER DISCOVERED NEAR LEADING HOTEL
Taken From School by Man Who Said Boy's Mother Was Injured in Car Accident

HONOLULU, Sept. 20.—The body of ten-year-old Gill Jamieson, kidnapped Tuesday, was found here today. The boy's body, covered with a rude cross made of sticks tied together with white string, was found near the Royal Hotel, one of the largest in the city. The boy, son of Frederick W. Jamieson, a leading banker, apparently had been dead twenty-four hours. His body lay upon old gunny sacks and newspapers covered the chest and face. One hand clutched a piece of paper which appeared to have been torn from a book. Nearby was found a book, "Father's Son Awhaling," which Gill was known to have taken with him when he left the public school Tuesday morning with his abduction on the pretext that he was to be taken to his mother, falsely said to have been injured in an automobile accident.

A dinner given by the Indian community at Klerksdorp. Before the dinner Evans called a meeting, which was attended by 150 to 200 of the "rougher element of the town," at which the deputy mayor protested strongly against the South African Government's agreement with India.AT MEETING LATERWhile the dinner was proceeding on Saturday evening, Evans, accompanied by about thirty youths, forced an entrance into the hall,
where Mr. Sastri held a meeting later in the evening. When Mr.RT. HON. V. S. SRINIVASA SASTRISastri ended his address, Evans arose and protested. Simultaneously some one suddenly extinguished the lights.
Mr. Sastri, standing on the platform, was the target of several eggs which were thrown by the attackers, but none hit him. Panic ensued in the hall when the ruffians started and the audience rushed out to the street. Later the meeting was continued in an orderly manner in the open air.Mr. Sastri proceeded to his hotel without further molestation after the meeting, although a large crowd gathered.Mr. Srinivasa Sastri was in Victoria in 1922 from August 11 to August 15, conferring with the Indian Governor and the Premier of British Columbia on the status of East Indians in this province.HEALTHY TOWN DISCOVEREDFollowing the recent discovery that ten of the 100 inhabitants of Wroxall, in the Isle of Wight, have celebrated their golden weddings and one couple had had a diamond wedding, the tiny town is declared to be the healthiest and "swaggiest" in England. As girl and boy and actress and wife the mates have all worked together on the 2,000-acre Wroxall Abbey Estate. The couples are: Mr. and Mrs. E. Gold, aged 82, married 63 years; Mr. and Mrs.
Pinfield, 82 and 88, married 54 years;
Mr. and Mrs. Kibbler, 75 and 76,
married 54 years; Mr. and Mrs.
Showell, 78 and 74, married 54 years; Mr. and Mrs. Tarver, 69 and 68, married 51 years. Together they have had 33 children, 69 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Each family has been brought up on from $2.50 to $3.75 a week.FRENCH FIRE CHANNEL FAKERFrench holiday makers of Menton poked fun at the English colony during the recent carnival by displaying a float alluding to the London woman doctor who "swam" the English Channel in a boat. The float showed the figure of a woman holding on to the leg of a giant duck by whose aid she was supposed to get across the channel. As duck in the French language is "canard," the English instantly recognized
what that word meant, in English, the hit was met with much laughter on the part of both the French and the visitors. On the float also was a boat, pushed by the swimmers, manager of the swimmer, the weather experts, and the man who had certified that she had performed the feat, watching her do it through a blind telescope.ANOTHER CLASSROOM

Are Now Operating Two
School CarsEducation in these days is hard put to it to keep pace with civilization, although the one is dependent upon the other. In the more remote districts of Canada, in particular, the cause of culture has a struggle to survive, and were it not for modern methods the rising generation in many parts would remain untaught.Although agricultural communities enjoy the most modern educational facilities and the "little red schoolhouse" has assumed an increased importance and has considerably enlarged its scope, other districts suffer by necessity from neglect. Outlying areas with a scattered population find intercommunication at best in summertime under the most favorable conditions difficult enough, but when winter closes down a partial paralysis is brought about. Such localities could not afford school facilities nor could permanent schools adequately serve the community, for during the winter season children could not travel with safety. This problem, which for a number of years remained unsolved, has been met by a singularly practical and effective remedy, the "school car."SECOND CAR OPERATINGCo-operating with the Ontario Department of Education, the Canadian Pacific Railway has evolved the school car, and late this Summer issued from its Angus shops
the second specially prepared coach for this unique purpose. It is now operating in the district in Ontario lying to the west of Fort William and Port Arthur, while its predecessor is carrying on its duties, as it has for some time past, in Northern Ontario, in the neighborhood of Carter and Chapleau.The school car is equipped in every way like the most up-to-date
"little red schoolhouse," having a bright classroom with blackboard, writing desks, maps, globe, school books and so forth; a library of books for the students and adult visitors as well; and comfortable quarters for the teacher. From the outside its appearance is that of a standard first-class coach, but inside it has been entirely remodeled and is especially protected and equipped to withstand the rigors of the coldest weather when left on a lonely siding.SOLVES PROBLEMThe mobile schoolhouse solves in a unique fashion a vital and hitherto unsolvable educational problem. Its duties and achievements in the Northern Ontario district, which should be duplicated largely in the West, illustrate the situation. In the northern area already reached by school facilities in this manner are many races—French, Rumanian, Italian, Indian and British—separated and isolated both by their scattered location and the barrier of language. Into these communities the school car is enabled toCanadian on Hike

B.C. ACCIDENT TOTAL WAS 460

Mr. Percy C. Abell, Safety League Manager, Sounds Warning in Address to the Victoria Rotary Club

LAUDS ARTERIAL HIGHWAYS HERE

"In 1926 tuberculosis took a total of 532 lives, and cancer 526 lives in British Columbia. We all realize with gratitude, the large amount of money expended and the whole-hearted devotion being given to fight these diseases, yet what is being done about the accident problem?" asked Mr. Percy C. Abell, a charter member and a past president of the Victoria Rotary Club, in addressing members of the local Rotary organization, yesterday at their weekly luncheon gathering in the Empress Hotel ballroom.

"Last year 460 persons met death by accident in this province," Mr. Abell, who is manager of the British Columbia Safety League, declared, "and because the process is a sapping one, one yesterday, another today, and so on, we seemingly are not greatly concerned," he said.

Mr. Abell pointed out that the great majority of accidents in this country were preventable, according to statistics already published in these columns. In fact, ninety per cent of the accidents which occurred in this Dominion were preventable, he claimed.

DROWNING FATALITIES
The speaker said that drowning accounted for 113 lives in this province for the year ending June 30, 1928, of this number sixteen were drowned in the Vancouver area and fifteen in industrial pursuits, such as logging and fishing, but the greater number by far, he believed, was through failure to observe the ordinary precautions.

"Right here in British Columbia we find mining and logging companies, lumber and shingle, pulp and paper manufacturers employing through their associations trained technical safety engineers. Eternal vigilance on their part and of the plain safety committee which tell me, is the price of keeping their accidents within bounds," declared Mr. Abell.

Fires caused more than a score of deaths annually in this province, while the "unloaded gun" destroyed thirty-three lives in 1927, Mr. Abell observed. He said the Provincial Department of Education was interested in promotion among school pupils of knowledge of accident prevention.

SAFETY EDUCATION
"Right here I would like to emphasize and make it better called upon to lend their assistance to the formation of the organization. With this end in view, there will be meetings held in the vicinity of Victoria during the coming week, when the poultrymen will have the opportunity of learning all the details connected with the project, and joining up."

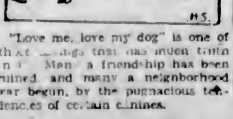

On Monday evening a meeting will be held at Saanichton for the purpose of discussing the formation of a local branch. On Tuesday evening a meeting will be held at Royal Oak, and on Wednesday there will be a meeting at Luxton. At these meetings there will be present the organizer of the Pool, Mr. G. F. Wallace, of Vancouver.

Mr. Wallace is well informed on the subject. He has been a member of the Manitoba Egg Pool, and has also been identified with the Wheat Pool. On his coming to the Coast he was induced to lend his aid in organizing the British Columbia Pool, which he is now doing.

Under the decision of the association recently, at least 75 per cent of all those having at least 200 laying hens, the flock must join the association in order to permit of the formation of a local. It is, therefore, being urged upon the owners of hens to attend these meetings and become informed upon the situation, so that the organization may be made complete.

"Do you think it would be conceded for me to tell my friends I made this dress myself?" "Not, certainly, my dear—superfluous."

These Women!
By J. M. Strubel

"Love me, love my dog" is one of those old-fashioned sayings. Men's friendship has been ruined and many a neighborhood war begun, by the purracious tendencies of certain canines.

the schools. We do not advocate this as an addition to the curriculum, but we do wish to have the subject of safety incorporated on every possible occasion in even such elementary subjects as drawing and composition.

Mr. Abell congratulated Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt upon initiation of the arterial highway system, predicting that the plan would result in the lessening of accidents in Greater Victoria.

"There can't be too many arterial highways for a safety organization such as ours," Mr. Abell stated.

The speaker said that preventable motor accidents had taken eight lives in Victoria during the past six months, with nearly thirty major injuries recorded.

LAW ENFORCEMENT
Mr. Abell explained that the British Columbia Safety League intended getting after the pedestrian and the cyclist, who were not immune from criticism as agencies in motor car accidents, and also contemplated agitating that the cyclist be provided with a registered licence plate even if need be, without cost to himself. The league was also desirous of having a strict enforcement of the laws for motorists, and to this end had organized a "Safe Drivers' Club," which he hoped would be instituted in Victoria.

This club, Mr. Abell made clear, was not of a vindictive nature and was always functioning very successfully. Briefly, the plan was for members to report to the club violations of the traffic laws, and the league then attend to the offenders, drawing their attention to the fact, and suggesting that unless they mend their ways they would be liable to prosecution.

As an example of what could be accomplished, the speaker said that Fort Wayne, Indiana, with a population exceeding 100,000, did not have a single case of consecutive months in 1927. The same was true of Worcester, Mass., with a population of 250,000.

TENDERS APPRECIATION
President Herbert Ansonb tendered the hearty vote of thanks of the clubmen to Mr. Abell for his discourse.

The Victoria Kiwanis Club extended its sympathy to the Rotary Club in the passing of Mr. James Patterson, who was one of Rotary's outstanding members.

Birthday celebrations were tendered Rotarian John Wood, Rotarian Robert R. Webb led the gathering in community singing.

EGG POOL TO RENEW APPEAL

Case Will Be Presented to Vancouver Island Poultrymen for Entering B.C. Pool

The move in the direction of thoroughly organizing the British Columbia Egg and Poultry Pool, is now in progress, and Vancouver Island producers are being called upon to lend their assistance to the formation of the organization. With this end in view, there will be meetings held in the vicinity of Victoria during the coming week, when the poultrymen will have the opportunity of learning all the details connected with the project, and joining up."

On Monday evening a meeting will be held at Saanichton for the purpose of discussing the formation of a local branch. On Tuesday evening a meeting will be held at Royal Oak, and on Wednesday there will be a meeting at Luxton. At these meetings there will be present the organizer of the Pool, Mr. G. F. Nearly 200 veterans attended the dinner given in honor of the Amputations Association in the Amphion Hall under the auspices of the District Council of the Canadian Legion, B.C.S.L. To addition to the visiting veterans the dinner was attended by members of the executive councils of the local and district branches of the Legion.

The celebration proved to be a real reunion of old comrades. With the same spirit that they sang as they marched along the roads of France, the men who crowded the tables roared the old battle songs over again at frequent intervals during the evening. Old memories were revived, and comrades who had not met for years recounted their war experiences. The spirit of Flanders seemed to live again in the room.

The proceedings opened with a silent tribute in memory of fallen comrades. Following the dinner the toast to the King was given and "O Canada" was sung. The chairman, J. J. Blair, welcomed the guests and introduced the speakers.

Hon. J. Hinchliffe, Minister of Education for British Columbia, recounted some of the lighter experiences of the war and paid a handsome tribute to the valorous lives of those who were suffering from the results of the war and were doing everything in their power to make a full provision for the dependents of those men who gave their lives or their health in the service of their country.

Between toasts and speeches an excellent programme of music was rendered, predominant among the singers being the Imperial Quartette, composed of F. L. Tupman, A. Palmer, W. Draper and J. W. Buckler. S. Smedley, W. J. Cobblett and A. W. Hood also augmented the enjoyment of this very successful evening, which is one that will linger in the minds of all those present.

Trinity College Confers Degrees Upon Churchmen

TORONTO, Sept. 20.—Trinity College last night bestowed its highest honor on four leaders of the Church of England in Canada. At a special convocation in Convocation Hall of the University of Toronto, degrees of doctor of divinity, honours causa, were conferred on Most Rev. David Williams, Lord Archbishop of Ontario and Metropolitan of Ontario; Ven. Charles Leicester Ingle, Archdeacon of Simcoe, in the Diocese of Toronto; Ven. Johnston McLelland Snowden, Archbishop of Ottawa; and Rev. John Gage Walter, senior missionary in the foreign field of the Church of England in Canada.

Surrounding the pro-chancellor on the platform were distinguished leaders in every branch of the church's work. The pink and scarlet academic gowns in contrast to the episcopalian purple of the bishops made the assembly on the platform a colorful as well as an impressive one.

MR. J. H. THOMAS FOR SAIL FOR CANADA

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 20.—Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, prominent Labor M.P. and former Secretary of State for the Colonies, is sailing for Canada on Friday to attend the wedding of his son. His visit is personal and has no political significance, he stated.

Mr. Thomas' visit will prevent him from attending the annual conference of the Labor party, which opens October 1, but, he said, there is no question of his running away from public criticism at the Labor party conference.

A "POLITICAL NECESSITY"

There are now 1,950 men at work building the Hudson Bay Railway. The Canadian National Railways are undertaking the project at the orders of the Dominion Government. The line will be in operation sometime in 1930, or in 1931 at latest, and, as yet, the information secured about the feasibility of the Hudson Strait route to Europe is somewhat vague. This year it appears that the opening of navigation was earlier than usual. That happens once in a while, and, similarly, once in a while, navigation is possible up to sometime in late November. At other times it ceases by the end of September. No matter how early navigation opens or how late it closes, there are extensive aids to shipping needed. The ice conditions vary very considerably. In 1922 Mr. D. W. McLachlan, the engineer in charge of the work at Port Nelson, condemned the project of navigating the Hudson Strait on the ground that it had been "completely blocked" in one year in September.

The Hudson Bay Railway is regarded as a "political necessity" by certain interests in the Prairie provinces, chiefly in Manitoba and in parts of Saskatchewan. When it is fully in operation, with the ice-breakers, aids to navigation, possibly an aerial patrol and a fleet of steamers for transport purposes, the enterprise will have cost the people of Canada at least $75,000,000 and probably a great deal more. With all this expenditure there is no assurance whatever that it will pay for the cost of operation. The railway, for the greater part of the year, will have to depend on freight and passengers of local origin and local destination and the character of the country through which it runs holds out no great promise of such traffic proving in any way extensive. It may be found indeed that it will be necessary to close the railway except during the period when the Hudson Strait is open to navigation.

The season for the grain trade, via the Hudson Strait route, could not, under the most favorable circumstances, extend for more than five weeks. It is doubtful if in that period, with the facilities that will prevail, that more than 50,000,000 bushels could be moved. The freight charges to be established will be at least as great as those on the St. Lawrence route, perhaps greater. Railway and steamship facilities are supposed to pay the cost of operation, and, if they are to be economic utilities, should pay interest as well on the investment in them. No one in his sober senses believes that this will be possible in the case of the Hudson Bay Railway. In effect, there is going to be a substantial new capital liability added to the Canadian National Railways, and the Dominion Government will be called upon to add annually to the obligations of that system, possibly not only by meeting the interest on capital invested in the Hudson Bay route but also in making up deficits in the actual cost of operating. In addition, the Department of Marine and Fisheries will be put to large expense to provide aids to navigation. Thus the "political necessity" will cost the people of Canada substantial sums, increase their indebtedness and still further postpone the indeterminate day when the Canadian National Railways will be made a paying venture.

VANCOUVER'S GROWTH

When Greater Vancouver comes into being it will be Canada's third city in both size and population. It will have a population of approximately 350,000. Vancouver's great growth is due to many things—to its situation as a port where steamship lines meet transcontinental railroads, to the fact that upwards of 80,000,000 bushels of wheat are annually finding their way to the world's markets via the Pacific Coast route, and to the indomitable energy of its citizens. When the amalgamation takes place the area of Vancouver will be four times as great as it is at present. Nothing can be conceived, short of some natural phenomenon, that can stop Vancouver's growth. There are few if any cities in Canada where the people pull together so well for the good of the community and that is an immense factor in their development. The days when Victoria was jealous of Vancouver's growth have gone by; there is nothing but admiration here for the spirit the people of the neighboring city have shown, for the manner in which they have grasped their opportunities, and nothing but the best of wishes for an abounding prosperity under the Greater Vancouver scheme.

LIQUOR CONTROL PROFITS

Any examination into the operations of the Liquor Control Board will doubtless cover the prices now charged in the liquor vending stores. Those prices in the past have been governed by the Attorney-General's Department. They must continue, to an extent at least, to be regulated in accordance with governmental finance, but that the scale of profits that has been enjoyed up to the present should be maintained is another question. The fact is that the profit being derived is too great in this province. It amounts to profiteering, and it is small wonder that if a Government by a monopoly that it enjoys sets a big profit for the benefit of the Treasury then private interests will tend to follow suit. Liquor control is an operation in which fair profits only should be derived.

There are those who believe, with a good deal of reason, that the provinces where liquor control prevails should get together and establish a schedule of prices on all liquors sold. It is difficult to say the extent to which this can be done because freight charges on imports have to be considered. The prices of liquors in the different provinces could, however, approximate, and at least there could be an agreement as to what would be a fair percentage of profit and the prices could be regulated accordingly. The prices charged for liquors of all sorts do not constitute any issue relating to temperance, or prohibition, or kindred subjects. There is a principle involved, namely, the example a government or governments should set in the matter of deriving profit from the sale of any commodity. There are fair profits and exorbitant profits, and no one can deny that it is in the latter category the operations of the Liquor Control Board are listed. We commend this thought to the Government which, as time goes on, must necessarily be giving more and more attention to the whole subject of liquor control.

CHANGING EASTER DAY

It appears now that, irrespective of what other countries do, Britain is to have a fixed date for Easter, somewhere about the middle of April each year. The reason for the proposed change, which has been sanctioned by legislation, although the date is not yet set, is not theological at all. It is economic. It is proposed for the good of the workers. In England there has been no change in the method of determining the date of Easter since 729. In that year Saint Egbert when at the monastery of Iona, after much labor, prevailed on the monks to give up the Celtic tradition and to conform to the Roman custom for celebrating Easter. He lived to die on Easter Day, April 24, 729, aged ninety. "Rejoicing," says the Venerable Bede, "that he had been detained long enough to see them keep the feast with him on that day which before they had always avoided." The change was not fully established at that time but it led finally to the adoption in England of the Roman computation, which it is now proposed to subject to a change.

Britain is accomplishing something in the task of cheapening the cost of living. Before the war the price of bread was 5½d per quarter loaf (four pounds). In 1927 the four-pound loaf was 1d, and now it has been reduced as low as 8d, which is the lowest it has been since 1924. Bread at the rate of 4 cents a pound, mostly made with imported wheat or imported flour, is a tribute to Britain's manufacturing ability and also an indication that when wheat drops in price the cost of bread can also be reduced.

Prosperity in these latter days is evidently measured only by the accumulated wealth in a country, not according to the plentifulness of employment. In Britain on August 13 last, the number of unemployed was officially given as 1,314,000. In the United States Mr. A. Smith, one of the presidential candidates, says 4,000,000 are workless. This means that in proportion to population, unemployment in the United States is twenty per cent greater than in Great Britain.

FROM "FIRES OF DRIFTWOOD"

Where dwell the dear dream people who fly at break of day?
Their laughter sinks to silence, their faces melt away—
The only voice that lingers is the voice that bids them stay!
They bring the breath of Summer, the Autumn moon,
The sigh
That stirs the perfumed bushes as the night wind wanders by.
And all the sweet dead sights and sounds that really never die.

They come with tears and laughter; they never fail nor fade—
Last night myself came dancing back a little red-cheeked maid,
With aproned frock and braided hair and clear eyes unafraid.
And often comes a merry lad, laughing, and tall and tanned,
And all the old delight sweeps back—his hand upon my hand.
With just us two alone in all the lovely, love-land lit!
Yet when we wake they leave us! I wonder where they stay,
And when we never wake at all shall we be just as they—
Forever free, forever young, beyond the touch of day?

—Isabel Eccleston MacKay.

PATRIOTISM

We ought to know more of the traditions of the Army. Our children in Yorkshire ought to know the march-past of at least each Yorkshire regiment. We citizens ought to honor the symbols of Britain, know why honor is due to them, and strive to increase it. This is not militarism. It is a quiet and sober patriotism.—Leeds Mercury.

Knowledge and timber shouldn't be much used till they are seasoned.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

In the days when the older generation was young and all the world seemed fair, it was interesting for a change to read or listen to a story that made the blood run cold and the flesh creep. Anyone who is looking for something sensational to read this morning, or any morning, need not seek it in some blood-curdling work of fiction. If he wants something of that kind to read, he will readily find it in the daily newspapers. He may not find it complete in The Daily Colonist, for that newspaper, although it is usually of generous proportions as newspapers go these days, is not big enough to contain a complete record of the daily murders and other horrors, not to speak of the ordinary minor criminal details, such as kidnapping of children and adults and holding them for ransom, robberies of institutions and "hold-ups" of individuals.

We expect the ordinary reader merely skims over reports of such commonplace occurrences and has no time to read more than ordinary human interest, such as discoveries being made by the investigators at the California "murder farm." This much may be pleaded on behalf of the ordinary human bird or beast of prey, that he usually kills for a purpose. He wants some other person's money, or some other person's wife, or something of that kind. He is too lazy to work and legitimately earn money, and he doubts whether he is un-lucky in affairs of the heart.

The people who conducted the California murder farm appear to have killed merely for the lust of slaughter. The people they killed were little children. And they probably believed that if they were unlucky and were caught, they would be dealt as gently with by the courts as some other killers of the innocents had been dealt with by justice in Chicago and other places. Look and Leopold were pronounced human abnormalities, not what they actually were, and probably still are, human monstrosities.

A way is being prepared for some piece of that kind in Canada. The chief butcher of the California murder farm is said to have hair all over his body like an ape. Therefore if the police get him, he doubtless will be shut up in a cage like his captured kindred of the jungle and exhibited as a horrible example. But the door of his prison, like that of the Chicago killers who set the example to be followed by him and others of this kind, will not be too carefully guarded. The health of the killers is of more importance than the safety of normal people who may be next selected for slaughter.

The slaughter of innocent and helpless children is of course terrible to read about, but the killing of grown-up persons who have temporarily reverted to a mental state of childhood is even more depressing to read about. Inmates of the Washington State asylum for the insane are said to have been beaten to death. The charges against the attendants of the Washington institution have not been established; but they are being investigated. But while we wonder at the prevalence of crimes of violence in the United States, we must not assume that Canada is completely free of crimes of a similar character.

A doctor who was a patient in an asylum in the Province of Alberta has been beaten to death by an official of the institution. At least the patient is dead, a charge has been laid against the attendant, and the case is now in the hands of the authorities. We hope and believe a case of that kind is something new in the history of Canadian institutions established for the purpose of ministering to unfortunate victims of mental diseases. We can understand that there may be some difficulty in procuring officials in all respects qualified for the delicate task of supervising patients whose reason is threatened and whose sometimes are physically strong and difficult to manage; but it is an alarming thing to think that patients in asylums may be even occasionally beaten into submission by brutal attendants. If there are any suspicions of such a thing, there should be an immediate investigation of the administrative system in all asylums.

As we read the newspapers and wonder at the prevalence of crime in this country, we naturally are prone to speculate as to the cause of the unusual criminal conditions. The prevalence of crimes of violence at one time was attributed to the war and its attendant evils. But the war came to an end more than ten years ago; yet crime instead of decreasing is increasing. The advocates of prohibition at one time claimed that liquor was at the root of most of the crime in the United States and that the adoption of prohibition would lessen crime and empty penitentiaries and jails. There are more criminals in confinement and at large than ever; and the opponents of prohibition declare that prohibition is responsible for the defiance of one law inevitably leads to indifference to all laws. Thus it is another case of theory as opposed to fact, and nobody appears to know what should be done about it. The executive

Champion Optimists

By KENWORTH

I am glad the Amps held their convention here. They have done us good; the sky is brighter, the mercury has risen.

Of course, we had our own men, fifteen or twenty of them; but two hundred of them impressed us more, even made us see our own fellows in a new light. The Amps have amazed us, thrilled us, also, they have humbled us, shamed us. They are vikings, and we who nurse and coddle our petty disabilities are whining puppies. That swimming tournament at the Crystal Garden made a medley of emotions. At the sight of their naked bodies the tears would come. What these splendid fellows have suffered, what Dantean horrors, what Promethean torments, fiery sehennas.

Then, laughs, shouts, cheerios, cheers, "Forget it!" Was there ever a merrier crowd splashing in the pool or throwing gayer laughter to the rafters? I have a new word for an optimist. An Amp is the champion optimist. What can they not do? The legless swim, the armless dive. A one-legged man will out-foot you, or a one-armed, And one with both arms gone will beat you at billiards. "Curly," sans legs and sans arms, as denoted as the rest.

In one city, I am told, not one of the Amps who has obtained a position within the past two years has lost his job. No doubt this is universal. Cert, determination, courage, pluck, invincibility, ginger, "pep"—any of these is their secret name.

I fall into the blues this Winter, I shall think of the Amps and quit my whining. We stand to lose them, "Amps" Champion Optimists.

MINISTER TALKS ON MARKET ACT

Catastrophe If It Were Scrapped Before Trial, Declares Hon. W. A. Atkinson

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20.—Hon. W. A. Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, in the city today conferring with F. M. Black and O. M. Hemmings, members of the Interior committee of direction under the Produce Marketing Act, who came from Kelowna to meet the Minister. Problems of administration were discussed, it was stated.

"It could be a catastrophe," said Mr. Atkinson, "if the Marketing Act were to be scrapped before it has been given a full chance to prove its usefulness. Mr. Atkinson expressed regret that former remarks of his had been construed as criticising the act.

While in the city, unofficial representations were laid before the minister with respect to the suggestion that there should be a change in the personnel of the subcommittee handling the potatoes, the Leamington, E. A. Challenger, chairman of the potato subcommittee, has resigned as manager of the Fraser Valley Growers' Co-operative Association, which markets the hay and grain crop of the Fraser Valley.

BANKS TAKEN OVER BY DEPARTMENT

OMAHA, Sept. 20.—Three Nebraska banks were in the hands of the State Banking Department today because of alleged irregularities, and county and state authorities, armed with a warrant charging embezzlement of $67,000, were searching for Paul Wupper, of Beemer, Neb., president of the institutions.

The banks taken over by the Banking Department were the State Bank of Beemer, the State Bank of McLean, Neb., and the State Bank of Morse Bluff, Neb.

THY SEA SO GREAT

Thy sea, O God, so great,
My boat so small.
It cannot be that any happy fate
Will me befall.
Save at Thy goodness opens path
For me
Through the consuming vastness
Of Thy sea.

Thy winds, O God, so strong
So slight my sail.
How could I curb and bit them on
The long
And salty trail.
Unless Thy love were mightier than
The wrath
Of all the tempests that beset my path.

Thy world, O God, so fierce,
And I so frail.
Yet though its arrows threaten oft
To pierce
My fragile mail,
Cities of refuge rise where dangers
cease,
Sweet silences abound, and all is peace.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaels

In vain men visit long-remembered lands
Where ghosts of old delight
Forever beckon them with joyous hands
Down ways serene and bright.

In vain they grope through every well-loved place
For joy that once they knew.
On plain and upland years have left their trace,
Their shade on heaven's blue.

The fragrant paths they roamed
have now grown strange,
And, struggle as they will,
They cannot penetrate the mist of change
That veils each field, each hill.

Yet could they go with dreams and hopes renewed,
Their say young selves again,
They would find waiting all that once they loved.
Untouched by time's dark stain.

LETTER CARRIERS ELECT OFFICERS

Resolution Passed Dealing With Bulky Advertising Matter at Christmas

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 20.—J. J. Reaves, of Toronto, was elected president of the Affiliated Letter Carriers of Canada at the concluding session last night of the biannual convention. He succeeds W. H. Belcher, of Edmonton.

Mr. Belcher was elected third vice-president and selected to represent the Canadian association at the annual convention of the United States Postmen, to be held this fall at Minneapolis. Alternates for the Western Provinces were chosen as follows: P. H. Davis, Edmonton; C. W. Tubbs, Victoria, B.C.; G. F. White, Regina.

No representative was chosen for Manitoba. During the convention concluding session a number of resolutions were passed. One requested the Dominion Government to bar advertising pamphlets and like matter from the mails between December 1 and January 1 of each year. This class of mail was held to interfere with the delivery of other postal matter. Another resolution suggested that all periodicals on carrying over 30 per cent advertising should be made to carry advertising postage.

A DANGEROUS CROSS SECTION

Sir.—The report of the inquest on the victim of the motor accident on Saturday last, considerably astonished me, particularly the statement of the assistant city engineer. If the said statement is correct, perhaps the official above referred to can explain the cause of the alarmingly frequent accidents at the cross section in question, which I venture to assert must constitute a record in this province at least.

Dwelling on this sinister corner I have witnessed a round dozen of serious crashes in the past five years; and this, I think, is a record for one section. In August last there was an average of two narrow escapes per diem and, day and night, we are startled by the shriek of brakes. There have been three serious accidents in the past few weeks, culminating in the fatal one on the 18th inst. What cross section in any city or any other city in Canada can produce such a disastrous record as that?

I have been given to understand that the Police Commission recommended safeguarding measures for the traffic at this point, only to have them turned down by the city council, who, if such is the case, thereby may be considered in a measure responsible for the late fatality.

Now, every motor accident is, or should be, reported to the police, and such being the case, an annual analysis of these reports should reveal the fact that abnormal traffic conditions must obtain at the corner of Lillian and Robertson Streets. As it is unlikely that the dwellers in the vicinity will allow this matter to drop, I submit that a searching inquiry be at once instituted, and this I commend to the notice of all public-spirited citizens to whom human life is still precious, and also to the proper governmental authorities.

EGG AND POULTRY POOL

Sir.—The long delayed receipt by the producers of the contracts for the proposed egg and poultry pool discloses the unaccountable existence in that document of a clause providing for an arbitrary deduction from eggs by the pool.

The clause in question also indicates that the form of organization has ceased to be what is understood as "Producers' Pool Marketing Association," and instead has been converted into the old impossible capital stock form of organization for that purpose.

THE FIRST RAILWAY TRAIN

Sir.—It is not very probable that many of your readers have met any one who could remember the first railway train. The first line opened for passenger traffic was the Manchester & Liverpool, which ran through Eccles, where my first parish was, 1894 to 1897. This is usually called the first railway, though the Stockton & Darlington, a mineral railway, had been running some years and doubtless carried some passengers.

But the memorable opening of the Manchester & Liverpool line (referred to by "R.B.D.") was clouded by the sad disaster to Mr. Huskisson, M.P., whose name is perpetuated in Liverpool in the Huskisson Cemetery. There had been a collision between himself and the Duke of Wellington, both of whom were in the party conveyed by the coach.

"first train." The train stopped on the way for some reason, and Mr. Huskisson got out to speak to the Duke. As he was on the parallel track an engine came along and struck him down, and his body was conveyed in haste to Eccles, where, life being extinct, he was removed to the rectory.

Now comes my story. Calling upon an old member of my church at Eccles, she said: "I suppose there are not many left who can remember the opening of this railway. I was a young girl at the time, and my mother let me go and stand on the bridge to see the train pass. As I was looking, an engine with one coach came along and stopped. I said to myself, 'Ay, wouldn't I like to be in that fine coach,' and then I saw who or rather what was in the coach."

In this way I am able to link up with a notable incident that occurred nearly 100 years ago.

NICOMEN ISLAND IS PROMISED AID

EFFORTS TO CHECK RAVAGES OF FRASER RIVER TO BE UNDERTAKEN

Government Will Invite Competitive Bids for Protective Works

The Government is now interested in the question of the improvement of the trunk road leading from Vancouver to Agassiz, particularly on Nicomen Island. The history of the upkeep of this road is somewhat tragic; thousands of dollars have been spent trying to cope with flood conditions. The road has been washed out, the settlers inundated, losing crops; they are financially embarrassed year after year, and have nothing to look forward to but the ravages of the Fraser. If high water comes, it adds another tragedy. The soil is the most fertile in the whole valley, yet the menace of the floods keeps the settlers in continual turmoil.

The Government is now investigating the whole question as to the raising of the roads to provide a highway which will be clear of high water, irrespective of its height. Once this is done, traffic will no longer require to consider high water on the Fraser, for the other connecting link in the vicinity of Fraser River has been placed to a height clear of any flood damage.

Competitive bids will be invited for the work in question, and this, coupled with the work on the south side of the island adjacent to the Fraser, which work will be considered by the Federal Government very shortly (the vote of over $40,000 being in the Federal estimates for this work), and the repair of the dykes at various points by the Provincial Government, should provide a measure of safety which will appeal to the settlers and the traveling public.

It is hoped to have the work under way early this fall, for the history of Nicomen Island has been to postpone the work until the eleventh hour, hoping that the Fraser would not do any damage, and finally to spend money to find that same was of no avail.

Distinguished Artist

Revisiting Victoria

One of Canada's most distinguished woman artists, Mrs. Mary Riter Hamilton, is a visitor in the city. Mrs. Hamilton, many will recall, spent some time here before the war, among the interesting commissions which she received being one for a set of portraits of the lieutenant-governors of British Columbia since Crown Colony days. Immediately after the Armistice she was given a commission by Gold Strick, the official organ of the Amputations Association, to go to France and Belgium to make a record on canvas of the devastated area, particularly that part in which Canadian troops were in action. Some of these pictures were sent to British Columbia and were shown in one of the rooms in the Provincial Archives. The remainder of the collection is now housed in the National Gallery at Ottawa.

Mrs. Hamilton continued to live in Paris for some years after she completed her task, and was decorated by the French Government for her work in recording the devastated area before restoration and rehabilitation efforts effaced the worst traces of war. About two years ago, however, she returned to Canada and has been living in Winnipeg.

Four Australians Survive Difficult Flight

FIGHTING every inch of the 1,660 miles which separates Australia from New Zealand, Captain Kingsford-Smith, the hero of the trans-Pacific flight from Los Angeles to Australia, and three comrades were successful in piloting the Southern Cross from Sydney to Christchurch. Although the distance was covered in the good time of fourteen hours and twenty-five minutes, the aviators experienced the worst flight of their careers. Thunderstorms, rain and ice did not cease to harass the flyers for more than a couple of hours and the wireless set was smashed and the air speed indicator rendered useless by ice forming on the plane. The New Zealand Government presented the crew with a gift of $10,000. Above is a picture of the machine Southern Cross, which served Kingsford-Smith so well in the flight across the Pacific and on the latest venture. This plane was used on many occasions by Sir George Wilkins during his exploration work in the Arctic Circle. Inset is a picture of the Australian birdman.

LOGGING FLUME IS DISCUSSED

DELEGATES FROM CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE MEET AT DUNCAN

Promoters' Representative Gives Address—Delegates to Make Excursion to Lake

DUNCAN, Sept. 20.—Joint delegations from the Victoria and Duncan Chambers of Commerce met at the Tzouhalem Hotel yesterday, to discuss matters in connection with the proposed Cowichan Lake logging flume, with a view of taking joint action in connection with the company's application for water rights should it appear necessary to do so in the interests of the southern portion of the island.

There were present: Messrs. Nicholas, Parfitt and Ker, of the Victoria chamber; Mr. G. Warren, of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau; Dr. D. E. Kerr and Messrs. A. Peterson, E. W. Neel and O. T. Smythe, of the Duncan chamber; Mr. A. J. Patton, representing the promoters of the flume, and Mr. R. D. Harvey.

Mr. Patton gave a very interesting talk on the company's proposal, and answered a number of questions relating thereto. He covered much of the same ground as Mr. Yount in a recent address before the Duncan chamber. He was thanked for the valuable information laid before the meeting, and accepted an invitation to speak before the Victoria Chamber of Commerce in the near future. Mr. Nicholas stressed the importance of the promoters' taking the public into their confidence in regard to the proposal, in order that certain misconceptions about the scheme might be dispelled.

The visiting delegates were the guests of the Duncan chamber at a dinner in the Tzouhalem Hotel in the evening.

It was decided that the Victoria and Duncan Chambers of Commerce make a joint excursion, by gas car, over the C.N.R. line to Cowichan Lake at an early date.

BISHOP RETURNS FROM LONG TOUR

New Cathedral Is to Be Opened for Visiting English Schoolgirls on Sunday

The Bishop of Columbia, Right Rev. C. D. Schofield, has returned to the city after nearly two months of almost continuous traveling, visiting outlying settlements around the coasts of his island diocese. On his last journey, the bishop went to Prince Rupert for the consecration of the Bishop of Columbia, and accompanied the Archbishop of New Westminster, the Bishops of Alaska and Olympia and Bishop Wells on a pilgrimage to Metlakatla and the scenes of early missionary work associated with the names of William Duncan, Bishop Ridley and Archdeacon Colishon, father of the present rector of Quamichan.

After a brief visit to Alert Bay, the bishop went to Coal Harbor, where he arranged for the transfer of the old St. Andrew's Church from its former site on the east side of the harbor to the new townsite on the west side. While over the district generously undertook to be responsible for removing the church.

From Port Hardy the bishop crossed the Strait to Coal Harbor and then proceeded to Fort Alice, where he spent several days in visiting the people on the townsite. Last Friday an evening service in the new church was attended by over fifty people. After the service the bishop discussed plans with the congregation for developing the work of the church around Port Alice and Quatsino Sound.

On Sunday the bishop celebrated holy communion at 8 a.m. and conducted a children's service at 10:15 a.m., when thirty-five children and five teachers were present.

On other tours during the past month, the bishop visited a number of settlements along the Alberni Canal and between Uclulet and Tofino on the West Coast. He has also traveled over the territory ministered to by the Columbia coast mission boats, Columbia and Rendezvous.

NEW CATHEDRAL OPEN

One of the first acts of the bishop after his return to Victoria was to sanction the opening of the new cathedral on Sunday next. At 10 a.m. a service will be held in the south aisle at the request of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., for the company of visiting English schoolgirls, local Girl Guides, Boy Scouts and others.

The building will also be open to the public on Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4:30 o'clock. While over a thousand persons, mainly tourists, are estimated to have passed through the cathedral during the summer, the opening of the building on Sunday next will permit local residents to see the progress made in construction during recent months.

The usual conditions governing admission to the building while it is under construction, namely, the acceptance of risk by visitors, will hold on Sunday next, although every precaution will be taken to make it convenient for all to see the south aisle, the foundation stone and other parts of the interior.

Friendly rivalry prevailed throughout the twenty hands, at the conclusion of which the honors went to Table No. 3 with twenty-six tickets, the players being Mrs. T. Lidgate, Rev. "Wet" gasoline

Down the cylinder walls into your oil

OUT OF THE CRANKCASE, when you drain it, comes a thin blackish fluid—not the rich oil you bought five hundred or a thousand miles back.

Full of gasoline you bought for power, for mileage. "Wet" gasoline that didn't explode, that trickled down the cylinder walls—worse than wasted for it has ruined your oil!

Yet lubrication men say they are finding many crankcases in which the oil is surprisingly free from dilution!

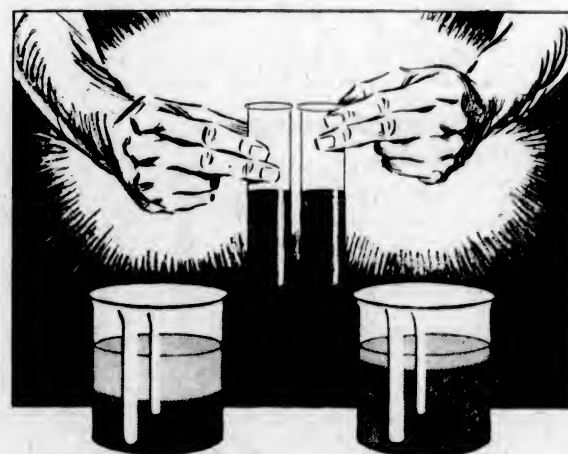

Connect that fact with this:

More and more drivers are careful to buy only Shell 400.

Refined to an exact point, Shell 400 goes completely vaporized into the motor—a "dry" gas. It explodes cleanly, swiftly, leaving no "wet" particles, no waste. And so the words "more mileage," "more power," have at last taken on a real meaning!

Fill with Shell 400 today. Use it exclusively. It costs no more than ordinary gasoline.

In starting, Shell 400 requires less choke than "wet" gas but can stand more without causing thinning

An example of what a thousand miles of ordinary driving with ordinary gasoline can do—oil 51% gasoline—thinning caused by incomplete explosion of "wet" gas

Shell 400, the "dry" gas reduces oil thinning to a minimum. Notice this example—only 9.2% in a thousand miles of ordinary driving

SHELL 400 The "DRY" GAS

Shell Motor Oil, a new lubricant that forms less carbon, soft carbon, is the ideal running mate for Shell 400. Don't offset the good effects of Shell 400 by using an oil less fine than improved Shell Motor Oil

ARCHBISHOP IS CONGRATULATED

Bishops Greet Primate of Canada on 76th Birthday—Companionate Marriage Banned

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 20.—At the meeting of the House of Bishops here today Most Rev. S. P. Matheson, Primate of Canada, and Archbishop of Rupert Land, was congratulated when he ascended the platform upon having reached seventy-six years today. All the good wishes were conveyed to him in an address by His Grace Archbishop William of Huron. The Primate thanked the meeting for its kind wishes.

The report of the general treasurer on the general board of religious education was passed as most satisfactory.

Reports followed from the provincial department and it was regretted that Miss Burgess, Montreal, head of the Little Helpers organization of church work, was resigning her post.

The doctrine of companionate marriage was condemned by Bishop James Sweeney of Toronto at today's session of the board of religious education of the Church of England in Canada. His lordship proposed that the board prepare a pamphlet for distribution throughout the church attacking this new feature and warning the people against it. His request was carried unanimously.

With eighty tons of cargo, Ss. Canadian Coaster arrived at Ogden Point piers at 7:45 o'clock yesterday morning. She sailed for Vancouver at 10:15.

NORTHCOTT IS NOW HELD IN OAKALLA

Gordon Northcott, Charged With Murder, Says He Is Being "Framed"—Police Elude Crowds

MOTHER FINALLY ADMITS IDENTITY

Fears Felt for Life of Mrs. Winifred Clark, Said to Have Left Saskatoon With Two Northcotts

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20.—Declaring that he has been "framed," and that he will fight extradition to the United States, Gordon Stuart Northcott, charged with murdering several young boys on his father's farm at Riverside, California, was locked in a cell in Oakalla prison here tonight. Northcott was captured yesterday at Vernon, and brought to Vancouver tonight by the provincial police. Prison officials declared that if the youth carries out his threat to fight extradition, it probably would be a month before he could be sent south. If the California authorities were successful in the case.

SHACKLED TO CONSTABLE

A tired, peaked looking young man of twenty-one years arrived in Vancouver tonight, shackled to a constable, to face charges of murder. Gordon Stuart Northcott was met by a squad of officers as he stepped off a Canadian Pacific Railway train in custody of three other policemen, and whisked away in an automobile to Oakalla jail. The train was halted at Heatley Avenue crossing, where the officers awaited their quarry. Hundreds of curious citizens were disappointed when the train pulled into the depot without the prisoner. Following Northcott's arrest yesterday at Vernon, he was taken to Kamloops, and this morning placed aboard the train for Vancouver.

WOMAN IN DANGER

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 20.—Fears are expressed today for the safety of Mrs. Winifred Clark, who was the instigator of the investigation, which was climaxed by the arrest of her brother, Stuart Northcott, for the Los Angeles police, on a murder warrant. A search for her in Vancouver has, so far, been unsuccessful. Eugene Herbert, United States vice-consul here, who worked with Mrs. Clark to bring about the release of Sanford Clark from Northcott's clutches, with startling results, fears for the safety of the Saskatoon woman during the past five days at the Pacific Coast.

Mrs. Clark openly feared violence following the revelation of Northcott's role for police protection in Saskatoon Thursday, but later cancelled the request.

Mrs. Clark left Saskatoon on Thursday evening for the Coast, with the Northcotts.

In almost daily correspondence with Mrs. Clark while she remained in Saskatoon, Vice-Consul Herbert learned of the fear in which Mrs. Clark lived.

IDENTITY ADMITTED

CALGARY, Sept. 20.—The woman held by city police Thursday night admitted her identity as Mrs. Sarah Louise Northcott, wife of Stuart Northcott, charged with the murder of five children on the "Murder Farm." After declaring for thirty hours that she was Mrs. J. Black, a widow and without children, Mrs. Northcott was shown a picture of her son, told of his arrest and then she quietly said, "I am Mrs. Northcott."

She admitted her identity to Detective Sergeant Carruthers, and asked as to her son, Gordon Stuart Northcott, now at Vancouver, in custody of police, and accused as the slayer of the boys at the "Murder Farm."

Police authorities declared that Mrs. Northcott would be held in custody and that United States police authorities would be communicated with immediately.

Knowledge that her son was in the toils at Vancouver and might need her assistance, was responsible for the breaking down of the woman's reserve. For hours she denied that she was Mrs. Northcott and insisted that she had never heard of the family and knew nothing about the case. Throughout the day she kept asking the police about her son, and when informed that he had been arrested in Vernon, B.C., she asked whether it was in Canada or the United States and what distance it was from Spences Bridge, B.C., where she first boarded the train for Calgary.

ANOTHER STATEMENT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—It was announced late tonight that District Attorney Ford had appointed Chief Deputy District Attorney Earl Redwine to go before the grand jury at 10 o'clock tomorrow to seek an indictment for first degree murder against both Northcott and his mother.

Messages received from police in British Columbia late tonight by Sheriff Clem Sweeters said that Northcott had made a statement to officers there which was being held in confidence for him and District Attorney Ford.

Man Accosted Second Time

PSEUDO DETECTIVE BELIEVED TO BE PROWLER WHO STAGED HOLD-UPS

Mr. I. D. Turner Tells of Experience Near Beacon Hill Park and Gives Description

A man, believed to be the same one who has staged several hold-ups in this city recently, accosted Mr. I. D. Turner of 1901 Fort Street, at 5:45 o'clock yesterday evening at the south end of Cook Street, where it leads to the beach.

In his report to the police Mr. Turner stated that the man said he was a detective. He asked Mr. Turner his name and address, but he did not give his own name. He then said that Detective Marcus Phipps would be along in a short time, but gave no explanation as to why Detective Phipps was to appear on the scene. The man then pulled his coat back, apparently to show his badge, but Mr. Turner said he did not see one.

The description given by Mr. Turner was that the man was about twenty-two years of age, five feet six inches in height, medium build, clean shaven, of dark complexion, dressed in a blue suit, light Straton hat with striped band and brown shoes.

Mr. Turner told the police that this was the second time he had been accosted by the man. The description is somewhat similar to that given by others held up recently.

MAN IS STRUCK DOWN BY AUTO

MR. THOMAS HODGES, OF 569 TORONTO ST., RECEIVES HEAD INJURIES

Accident Occurs at Belleville and Douglas Streets—Mrs. Joshua Jacob Is Driver of Car

Mr. Thomas Hodges, of 569 Toronto Street, had a narrow escape from death shortly before 12 o'clock last night at the intersection of Belleville and Douglas Streets when an automobile driven east on Belleville by Mr. Joshua Jacob, of 2012 Kilmun Avenue, struck him down.

Mr. Hodges received a deep triangular cut on the back of the head and was in a shaky condition through the loss of blood when brought to the police station.

The injury to his head was received after the car bumped into him. Mr. Hodges fell backwards onto the radiator cap. It was this that caused the deep wound in the head. He crumpled up on the bumper and then fell forward to the pavement.

Mr. Jacob, with the assistance of others, carried the man to the side of the road until the arrival of the constable. Constable Arthur Bishop attended and rendered first aid on the arrival of the man at the police station. Later Mr. Hodges was taken to the Jubilee Hospital, where his wound was stitched up by Dr. Nash.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McGOY

MENTAL BARNACLES

The road to progress is uphill and unmade. It is much easier for us to stroll along the well-trodden trails of the past than to forge our way into the unknown.

We always try to avoid new problems of thinking. Every new thing has been condemned in its day and generation by those who did not wish to make the effort to understand its meaning.

When railroads were first introduced, many objected because they said that human beings would be killed if they traveled over twenty miles per hour. When automobiles were first introduced, the pessimists cried, "Alas, the farmers will be ruined, for there will no longer be a demand for horses."

Fifty years ago, because it was so difficult to obtain a bath in the city, many lazy authorities claimed it was unhealthful—that one would catch a cold through too much bathing. The daily bath is now recognized as one of our best health habits.

When the first cold storage meat was shipped from Brazil to France seventy-five years ago, the French would not let it land, claiming that the meat would be dangerous to health. It was finally landed in England, and no doubt this very broadminded attitude of the English has contributed much to the eminence of their nation. It is well-known that the English are extremely fond of their roast beef.

The arguments that you hear today against meat eating are the remnants of the same reasoning used at that time—that flesh would spoil soon after it was killed, and become poisonous if kept too long. Those who have dared to investigate have found that properly killed meat is actually more wholesome after being refrigerated for several months.

Many people still believe that acids and milk make a bad combination. I recently read an article by one health expert who said he had proved that patients could eat fruit and drink milk at the same

Artificial Silk Has Many Dress Uses

SCATHING and diverse have been the criticisms hurled at America by other nations. We are a country of trapezoidal merchants, rows of men to say nothing of cowboys and Indians! We can neither write nor paint, nor have we created any tapestries; our music is manufactured; our food comes out of cans, etc. Certainly we are no artists, but a nation of motor car purchasers, they concluded. . . . and overlooked entirely the artistry of American manufacture. The skill, precision and rapidity with which American made products are turned out. Our average moving picture has been vastly superior to the best efforts of our foreign contemporaries, with one or two exceptions. Our Victoria records are extraordinarily popular abroad. And our versatile artificial silk! Within an extremely short time the American manufacturer has improved a crude product into a state of perfection.

The printed ensemble photographed is very practical for these disappearing Summer days. In it is incorporated an idea sponsored by some of the best known French couturiers; two kinds of fabric are printed in the same design. The frock is printed artificial silk voile and the seven-eighths length coat is artificial silk taffeta in the same print.

The three-piece ensemble is excellent for wear in early Fall. Green artificial silk jersey fashions the jacket and skirt. The green and white plaid blouse has appliques of the solid color material and two smart rows of buttons in front. A rather narrow belt with a buckle finishes the blouse, and the jacket collar shows a tiny piping of the plaid.

Exquisite Boudoir Lamp

If you are just a little cross at modernism, if your eyes seek loud splashes of color and metal shrieks no longer interest you, then certainly here is a bit of good news. A boudoir lamp entirely of glass—and white glass at that—gleams radiantly through a charming flower design outlined in clear glass. The shade is of glass, of course, and the stand, a ball-shaped one, repeats the design of the shade. It is very beautiful and delicate—and expressive of the soft elegance of the modern woman.

YOUR GAS MAN

The last rose of Summer and the first ton of Winter fuel—they go hand in hand, reminding a fellow of furnace tending and ashes and clinkers and soot that will be his fate when the cold weather sets in.

Why order that first ton of fuel anyway? It will only mean long months of hard work for you, mornings of pulling yourself out of bed in time to fire up the furnace, evenings of dragging down to the basement to bank the fire for the night.

Science offers a more modern, more efficient means of heating your home throughout the Winter by just "turning on" the furnace from upstairs and letting it regulate itself automatically. For science says that "you can do it better with gas." Why not look into the advantages of a gas furnace? It's worth investigating.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

You will find that satin is used to trim many of the Fall coats. Designers this season seem to like the decided contrast of the very shiny silk materials and the dull woollens. This model is very smart. Of a beige novelty weave, it employs dark brown satin for contrast. The satin, as you will note, is used for collar and scarf and for the large square trimming the interestingly cut sleeve.

Pretty Wedding Takes Place at City Temple

Charming in every detail was the wedding which took place on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the City Temple Hall, where, amid a profusion of early autumn flowers, Rev. Clem Davies united in marriage Sarah Isobel, only daughter of Mrs. Josephine Mowat, of 1188 Oat Street, and the late Mr. John Mowat, and Mr. Ralph Edward Snider, youngest son of Mrs. MacArthur, of 1508 Elford Street, and the late Mr. William Snider, of Waterloo, Ont.

As the bridal party entered the hall, Miss Katie Brown played the wedding march. Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Ian Mowat, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin embroidered in seed pearls, fashioned in simple mode with overdrape of silk lace and fringe caught at the hip and held in place by a diamond ornament. Her conventional veil of fine Brussels net, exquisitely embroidered in true lovers' knots, was arranged cap shape and held in place by a triple band of orange blossoms. Completing her lovely toilette was her shower bouquet of pink rosebuds and white carnations.

Assisting the bride were Miss Esie Snider and Miss Lorna Cutler, each wearing charming frocks. Miss Snider wore a beige and peach model gown with becoming picture hat. She carried a lovely bouquet of mauve asters and pink gladioli. Miss Cutler was pretty in a beaded frock of bold du rose with picture hat to tone. She carried mauve asters and pink sweet peas.

Mr. A. Roy C. Hebdon assisted the groom. The ushers were Mr. Joseph Mowat and Mr. Fred Hoie.

During the signing of the register, Miss J. Duncan sang "All Joy Be Thine."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at 1188 Rockland Avenue, the future home of the happy couple. They received their numerous guests in the spacious drawing-room, standing under a floral arch.

For the occasion the room had been decorated with autumn blooms and ferns.

Mrs. J. Mowat, wearing a becoming black gown and Paris model hat, and Mrs. MacArthur, in orchid lace over satin, with picture hat, assisted the bride and groom to welcome their many guests.

The prettily-appointed table, from which a buffet supper was served, was centred with a handsome four-tier wedding cake and was decorated with pink rosebuds and sweet peas, with harmonizing candles in silver scones.

Numerous and beautiful were the presents which were shown in the dining-room.

Amid showers of rice and confetti the happy couple left on the midnight boat for their honeymoon.

For traveling the bride chose a pattern gown of Milano blue, small felt hat and a beautiful seal skin coat.

The ceremony took place at 1 o'clock and the marriage service was performed by Rev. Ardash Walter. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a gown of white georgette overdress with bridal veil and orange blossoms, her only ornament being a rope of pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of carnations and rosebuds. The attendants were Miss Mary Karn, sister of the bride, and Miss Elma Thompson, sister of the groom, who were charming in frocks fashioned alike in pink and mauve crepe de Chine with tight-fitting bodices and full skirts, wearing picture hats to match and carrying arm bouquets of pink and mauve sweet peas. Little Miss Kitty Hillier made a pretty flower girl in a cream dress trimmed with rosebuds and carrying a basket of roses. Mr. Wilfred Thornton acted as groomsmen. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The rooms were decorated for the occasion, the bride's table being centred with the wedding cake and an exquisite floral arrangement. Mrs. Karn, wearing a smart gown of Milano blue with large hat to match, received the guests, assisted by her two daughters, Mrs. W. Thornton of Ucuélet, and Mrs. W. Hillier, of Coal Harbor, B.C. TOTAL PRICE RUNS
NEAR $26,000,000

EDMONTON, Sept. 20.—The Government announced today the completion of negotiations by which, subject to confirmation and ratification by the Dominion and Provincial Legislatures, and the shareholders of the C.P.R., the Provincial Government Railways will be sold to the Canadian Pacific Railway with the express understanding that the Canadian National Railway may participate in half the obligation and half the benefits. The purchase price is:

First—The payment of $25,000,000 as follows:

(a) Assuming first mortgage bond of the Edmonton, Dunvegan & British Columbia Railway to the extent of $9,420,000.

(b) Payment of the sum of $15,580,000, as follows:

Five million dollars on June 1, 1929; $5,000,000 in four years thereafter; balance of $5,580,000 in ten years thereafter with interest at 4 per cent from the date of the sale.

Second—The purchaser assumes all payments made and commitments entered into for the extensions now being made of the Edmonton, Dunvegan & British Columbia and Central Canada Railways. As these extensions will probably involve another $1,000,000 or more by the time the sale is consummated, it will be seen that the total purchase price is in the neighborhood of $26,000,000.

The company further agrees to complete sixty miles of additional extensions in the next five years. It was not possible to give any commitment with regard to the coast outlet, but it will be remembered that in the joint offer submitted at the last session, the presidents of the two railway companies would make no commitment whatever in this respect.

ARTS AND CRAFTS DISPLAY OCT. 23

Members and Nonmembers of Society Invited to Submit Exhibits

Nineteen years ago this month a few Victoria art enthusiasts gathered together and decided to form an art society, or organization, for the purpose of spreading the gospel of beauty and the development of the creative spirit which enables humans to express themselves along art and craft lines. Today this creative spirit has spread throughout the city to such an extent that Victoria is looked upon as the proper centre of art and culture, not only for the Province of British Columbia, but for the greater part of the Pacific Coast.

Next month will see another of the annual exhibitions by these art enthusiasts, in fact, the nineteenth of its kind to be held by the members of the Arts and Crafts Society.

Pieces From Valuable Art Collection

ABOVE are photographs of some of the valuable pieces from the collection of the late Dr. Fan Hoo Koo, which are soon to go under the auctioneer's hammer in Toronto. No. 1, a magnificently carved chair, presented by the late Mikado of Japan to Dr. Koo; No. 2 is a cast iron Foo dog that weighs half a ton; and No. 3, a quaint figure in carved wood, coated with gold leaf and antique red lacquer.

Through the courtesy of the agents for the Belmont Building, ample space has been reserved to house the varied art and craft exhibits, which are always a delight to view and are visited by hundreds of well-wishers of the movement. Committees are busy making final arrangements for the affair, which will be opened by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor on Tuesday, October 23, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Members and nonmembers of the society are asked to submit works of art for exhibition, subject, of course, to the approval of a selection committee, whose decisions in all cases must be accepted as final. The various sections of the exhibition will be in charge of capable members of the executive, and include Mrs. W. F. Loveland, oils; Miss Maud Lettice, water colors; Mr. F. C. Holland, pastels and black and white; Miss K. Lohian, crafts; Mrs. W. B. Young, general convenor; Mrs. A. E. Hodgins, teas.

The secretary of the society, Mr. J. S. McMillan, 201 Union Building, will send further particulars to any person interested.

Capitol—"The Magnificent Flirt," starring Florence Vidor.

Coliseum—"The Raider Emden," with Hoot Gibson.

Dominion—"Steamboat Bill, Jr.," featuring Buster Keaton.

Playhouse—Dorothy Mackall in "Lady Be Good."

Variety—"The Woman on the Jury," with Sylvia Bremer.

THEATRE As many laughs as can be crammed into seven thousand feet of film; romance, suspense, thrills—these are some of the elements which go to make up the year's surprise comedy, "Steamboat Bill, Jr.," which stars Buster Keaton and presents a number of noted supporting players of the calibre of Ernest Torrence. Keaton's new United Artists laugh feature is convincing capacity audiences at the Dominion Theatre. The fast-moving story of river life is Keaton at his funniest and Torrence in his most interesting role. Photoplays goers who invariably associate the noted character actor with villainous parts are due for a shock when they see him sharing laughs in the portrayal of Buster's hard-boiled, swashbuckling dad, a modern river pilot with a hatred for molluscoids, and with a penchant for getting into trouble.

PLAYHOUSE Dorothy Mackall in "Lady Be Good," the most popular light comedy team on the screen, are now playing at the Playhouse Theatre. "Lady Be Good" is a screen version of the recent musical comedy of the same name. They tell an amusing story of backstage life in vaudeville theatres. The supporting cast includes John Mulvan, Dot Farley, James Fernaly, Yola d'Avril, Nina Martin, Eddie Clayton, Jay Eaton and others.

COLISEUM Twelve cameras were used in the making of the battle sequence of "The Raider Emden," an authentic picture of the exploits of the German cruiser in the Indian Ocean during the early days of the war. The film was made by Emilsa of Munich, under the auspices of the German Admiralty and was over a year in the making. The picture, which is considered one of the greatest war films ever screened, is now showing at the Coliseum Theatre.

CAPITOL Once again is Florence Vidor blossoming out as a comedienne of first water. Her latest Paramount starring vehicle, "The Magnificent Flirt," opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre and drew plenty of favorable attention. "The Magnificent Flirt" presents the fascinating star as an out-and-out flirt, a resident of Paris, a lover of the gaities and frivolities that mark high life in the French capital. The stage specialties offer the Stanton Sisters, champion hard shoe dancers of America, Gonella and Wilson, Italian singers and musicians supreme, and Rastus Buckner, the well-known comedian, the Capitol Concert Orchestra and Harold Bechtel, the singing M.C.

VARIETY Harry O. Hoyt, who directed "The Woman on the Jury," the first National picture now showing at the Variety Theatre, adapted "Flaming Youth," Colleen Moore's famous hit, for the screen. For many years Hoyt has been winning fame for his vivid adaptations of novels and plays, as well as for his original stories. Now he has made his mark as a director. Sylvia Bremer is the featured member of the cast of "The Woman on the Jury."

WONDERS OF HUMAN BODY DESCRIBED BY DR. A. F. BARTON

The New Thought Temple was packed to the doors on Wednesday evening, when Dr. Barton gave an address on "More About the Wonders of the Human Body." So interesting was the discourse that many people who were unable to gain a seat stood throughout the entire lecture. It was one of those rare occasions when even "standing room" was at a premium.

Dr. Barton urged his listeners to assume the cheerful attitude of mind, to put buoyancy into their step and the fighting spirit of the conqueror into everything that they set out to do. In this manner they would throw off years from their age and feelings overnight, he said. Dr. Barton received a great ovation at the conclusion of the lecture.

He—Darling, I shall be miserable all the while I am away from you.

She—If I could be sure of that it would make me so happy.

Edna—Would you like to take a nice long walk?

James—Why, I'd love to.

Edna—Well, don't let me detain you.

Vanderbilts Reconciled

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The New York World says today that a reconciliation has ended the four-year estrangement between Brigadier-General Cornelius Vanderbilt and his son, Cornelius, Jr.

The younger Vanderbilt, whose tabloid newspaper publishing venture caused the break with his father, confirmed the report of the reconciliation before leaving with his bride, the former Mrs. Mary Weir Logan, for his Nevada ranch. He was divorced by his first wife, Mrs. Rachel Littleton Vanderbilt, last November. He married his present wife in Reno on July 3 last, a few hours after she had obtained a divorce from Waldo Hancock Logan, son of a Chicago broker.

After Vacation Peel Summer Spoiled Skin

To remove that tanned, freckled or sun-burned skin, and restore the clear, smooth complexion of youth, you must peel off the outer film skin with pure mercolized wax applied to the face nightly like a cold cream. It absorbs the outer veil of skin in tiny particles, unobscuring the pores, removing blackheads, pimples and other blemishes. The undergrowth skin now brought to the surface is clear, soft and beautiful, and entire face looks years younger. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty. To remove wrinkles and restore the contour of youth, use as an exfoliant a dilute powdered acetone and 1 half pint which hazel.

Harper, Giants' Cast-Off, Clouts Out Three Homers as Cards and New Yorkers Divide Two—Hogan Cinches Nightcap for McGrawmen

AMERICAN LEAGUE
DETROIT, Sept. 20.—The ever-threatening Philadelphia Athletics cut the lead of the Yankees by winning the first game of the series from Detroit by a 6-1 score. The aged right arm of Jack Quinn, oldest of the Major League pitchers, was too much for the Tiger batters today. They could get only six hits off his moist delivery and the only run they made was due directly to a fumble by Jimmy Dykes.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.—Picked by most critics to finish in the second division, the St. Louis Browns clinched third place in the American League standing with a 10-1 victory over Boston. Alvin Crowder pitched his nineteenth victory against five defeats for the season. Manush, leading batsman of the league, got one single in three times up.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Big Frank Hogan, stepping into his role like the best of "dime novel" heroes, saved what little remains of the New York Giants pennant hopes today just as it seemed the St. Louis Cards were about to dash off with a double victory and all but control of the National flag on the spot. With two out and the bases filled in the eighth inning of the same game, Hogan smashed one of old Peter Alexander's curves into the left field stands for a homer. This resounding wallop enabled the Giants to come from behind in spectacular fashion to win the second game, 7-4, after the Cardinals had bombed Larry Benton and captured the first game, 8-5, chiefly through a trio of home-run drives by Harper.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—The Pirates opened their final four-game series of the season by beating the Phillies 6-4. Both Carmen Hill and Claude Willoughby went the route for their respective games, each surrendering eleven hits, that included home runs by Virgil Davis and Lloyd Warner. In addition to his homer, "Little Poison" had two singles and a double. The former light-heavyweight champion from Bridgeport, Conn., stopped the game Italian brawler twenty-five seconds of the eleventh round.

ALBIE DAVIES TO BATTLE NEWMAN

Flashy Colored Boxer From Vancouver Will Meet Clever Local Lard Tomorrow Night

The announcement that Albie Davies has been matched with Jackie Newman, of Vancouver, for a six-round bout tomorrow night, at the Sons of Canada Hall, has caused a number of fans to express themselves to the effect that the clever local boy is being given too tough an engagement for a boy as young as he is. The fans figure that the advantage that Newman will have in weight, ring experience and punching ability will prove to be too much for a hand-picked youngster to overcome. Matchmaker W. H. Davies, of the Victoria Boxing Club, who is Albie's father, realizes that he is pitting his young son up against a formidable opposition. He is well acquainted with the fact that Newman has boxed with Poley and some of the topnotchers in the game, but that he has been working at top speed for their six-round battle tomorrow night. Tim Keist, who is a favorite in the betting, has been working out every night at the rugged Dave Lewis, and he has surprised the fans who attended the work-outs with his wonderful conditioning and improved punching ability. Keist has been practicing a series of new punches which he proposes to display against the rugged Danny tomorrow night. Pastore has been working out under the watchful eye of Dusty Miller, who has taught him a lot of the fine points of the game, and Danny is supremely confident that his new left rip to the body, which he has been practicing for three months, will bring him the K.O. route, will bring Keist to the floor within the six rounds.

The curtain raiser will bring together Charlie Bradshaw, of the Victoria Boxing Club, and Scotty Sinnott, of the Central Boxing Club, in a four-round bout, and it is expected that these two husky battlers will travel at top speed. Sinnott has been working out every night at the Tillamook gymnasium, and it is reported that he is at last rounding into good shape and will be able to give a good account of himself.

Tickets for the bouts can be reserved at Two Jacks Dope and The Bull.

Large Salmon Plentiful
COWICHAN BAY, Sept. 20.—Mr. Maitland Deane, who has been very fortunate in landing a 28-pound spring salmon on Wednesday afternoon and many others have been caught. Sgt. Major Leach caught one weight 45 pounds and Mr. John Andrew caught one 38 pounds. All of the three salmon were caught in the evening.

After being runner-up or top honors in the national tennis rankings of 1918 and 1920, William Tilden was placed in that position until recently displaced by Frances T. Hunter.

Former Referee Heads Midweek Soccer Loop
Albert Hewison Is Elected President, Succeeding F. B. Richardson, Who Held Office for Three Years—Hanson Is Vice-President

Albert Hewison, a former soccer referee, was last night elected president of the Victoria and District Wednesday Football League, succeeding F. B. Richardson, who has held the post for three years. Another well-known figure was named an official of the midweek loop in the election to the office of vice-president, N. Hanson, who for many years has been secretary of the Zennie & Taylor Football Club. S. Thomas was re-elected secretary-treasurer for his fourth straight term.

Five clubs, Rennie & Taylor, Tillamook, Saanich United and the Hudson's Bay, have decided to enter the loop this season, while there are hopes that the Garrison will return to the fold. Salt Spring Island, who made a recent inquiry about entering the league, may come forward and bring the number of teams to seven. In the event of this happening, the Wednesday Football League will be one of, if not the largest, in the city.

The closing date for entries was set for Thursday, September 27, when the next meeting of the league will be held. A committee, composed of Percy Shrimpton, Jack Maxwell, Teddy Hawkes and the secretary, was appointed to revise and, if necessary, draw up a new constitution for presentation at the next meeting.

Although there are no players signed up at present time, reports from the various managers are to the effect that the majority of the last year's players will be back in harness again this year. Rennie & Taylor, who copped all the silverware last season, will have a good more formidable eleven to place on the field when the season gets under way. The Hudson's Bay, who were always capable of giving the youngsters plenty of worry, will be strengthened, while Saanich United are reported to have some new players to add to their list.

With the return from England of Barker and Robinson, and the inclusion on their line-up of Alex. Whyte, Cosier, Roberts, Patterson, Glaves, C. Whyte, Hall and many others, the Navy look like real contenders for the honors this season. Arthur Johnston, who last year was managing the Tillamooks, expects to have a strong team in the field.

To Meet in Return Bout

PICTURED above are Tim Keist and Danny Pastore, who are billed to meet in one of the main events of tomorrow night's fight show, being staged by the Victoria Boxing Club at the Sons of Canada Hall, View Street. Keist and Pastore met at the Victoria West gymnasium a few months ago, when the former was given the decision after four rounds of heavy milling. Interest in the mix, which promises to be a thriller from start to finish, is growing daily and indications are that the Sons of Canada Hall will be packed to capacity.

In the other main event Albie Davies is meeting the veteran colored boxer, Jackie Newman, of Vancouver.

Professional Tennis Meet Will Terminate Season in the U.S.

First Time in the History of Net Game That the Salaried Exponents Will Gather for Tourney—Richards Gives Racquet Rankings

By VINCENT RICHARDS
American Professional Tennis Champion and former Davis Cup star.
(Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)
With the ending of the United States national singles championship at Forest Hills, the amateur lawn tennis season virtually to a close, the professional championships, which, for the first time in the history of the game, will be played on the turf courts of the Forest Hills Tennis Club, N.Y., and a few local tournaments throughout the country.

But with the winning of the national title by Henri Cochet, the interest of the players, officials and fans turns to the annual ranking of the world, this year. Never has there been a season with so many upsets in tournament play.

Only one player stands out above all the others, and he is Cochet, winner not only of the national singles championship, but hero of the Davis Cup challenge round in Paris.

TENNIS RANKINGS
My selections for two first tens— one amateur, the other professional, follow:
Amateur—1, Henri Cochet; 2, Rene Lacoste; 3, William Tilden; 4, F. T. Hunter; 5, George Lott; 6, John Hennessey; 7, J. Crawford; 8, H. W. Austin; 9, Baron Murguio; 10, Jack Hawkes.
Professional—1, Karl Kozeluh; 2, Vincent Richards; 3, Howard Kinsey; 4, Albert Burke; 5, Ramon Nunez; 6, Harvey Snodgrass; 7, J. Negro; 8, Paul Heston; 9, Charles Wood; 10, Richier or Tommy Burke.

I won't attempt to rank the first ten in the United States for the simple reason that there were so many upsets while I was abroad that I couldn't keep track of them all.

It seems certain, however, that with the barring of Tilden from amateur play, the No. 1 position among United States players will automatically go to Hunter, finalist in the national singles championship.

Hunter had two or three bad defeats in early season play, but it is likely the ranking committee will overlook those as a result of his sterling performance in the national championship.

Lacoste won at Wimbledon, but he was beaten in the challenge round by Tilden who, in turn, lost to Cochet in three straight sets. Cochet gets the preference over Lacoste for world first place because he has been the national champion at Forest Hills.

Tilden, of course, did not compete in the late season play, but his record in the early Summer, together with his victory over Lacoste, gives him the right to third place.

In ranking the first ten among the professionals, I admit a little guesswork is in order. All the professional players do not compete in the national championship at Forest Hills.

As Charles O'Leary, the Yankee scout, puts it: "I get a kick out of just watching the big fellow get in a taxi cab, although I've been watching him do his stuff for years."

HEAVY HITTING FEATURE GAMES

GEORGE HARPER SLAMS OUT TRIO OF CIRCUIT BLOWS IN EXCITING BATTLE

Frish, Terry, Hogan and Hefey Hit Ball Hard in Cards—Giants Feud

By WALTER TRUMBULL
(Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—George Harper, born in Arlington, Kentucky, and once an active citizen of New York, probably will be the National League flag for St. Louis in the first game of the double header at the Polo Grounds today. George lifted three looping flies into the right field stand, one on occasion driving in two runners ahead of him. One of these runners was Frank Frish, a former worker for McGraw. Harper was by no means the only slugger who made a home run during the long afternoon. The games were full of them. Sherrill kept the home runs scattered better than Benton and Scott, and the result was that the score of 8 to 5. St. Louis lost the second game, 7 to 4, but it was not Alexander's fault. His teammates kicked the contest away.

EIGHT HOMERS
There were eight home runs clouted during the two games. Harper, as I have mentioned, made three, Hogan two, Hefey two, and Cohen one. Frish and Terry got triples, and Lindstrom, Reese, Douthill, High and Wilson got doubles. The poor unfortunate who only made singles today were so mortified that they hid in the darkest depths of the dugouts.

The value of the present rabbit ball was beautifully exemplified. Take away the short stands and give the fielders a chance to run for the ball, and a considerable number of those long hits would have been out. It is getting so that a punt is far rarer than a homer.

Both teams showed courage and the boys were worth for all they were worth, but the games were a medley of brilliant and sloppy fielding, good and terrible base running, and a continuous slugging. The second game was a tough break for old Alex, the Great.

The score was four to two against the Giants when they went to bat in the eighth inning and old Alex, who had been pitching tight ball, Welsh fled out. O'Doul singled to center, and Ott beat out an infield hit. Lindstrom was out on a long fly to center, but O'Doul scored on a passed ball and Terry walked. Maranville fumbled Jackson's grounder, leaving the bases full. Then Hogan saw his chance and took it. He lifted the ball into the left field stand and touched all the bases. That was that.

The first game was an orgy of circuit clouts. Harper's first hit to the stand came in the second inning and got the Cards off in the lead. In the sixth, High, Frish and Bottomley singled in succession. High scoring on the last hit of the trio. Then Harper came along with his second home run and the Cards led, 6 to 2. Reese doubled. Mann fouled out, but Lindstrom singled, scoring Reese. Then Hogan, with the count two and nothing, hit his first homer. In the seventh, Frish and Bottomley singled in succession. High scoring on the last hit of the trio. Then Harper came along with his second home run and the Cards led, 6 to 2. Reese doubled. Mann fouled out, but Lindstrom singled, scoring Reese. Then Hogan, with the count two and nothing, hit his first homer. In the seventh, Frish and Bottomley singled in succession. High scoring on the last hit of the trio. NEW ZEALAND TEAM DINED

Touring Bowlers Guests of Victoria Enthusiasts and of the City—Impressed With Canada

GAME GROWING IN POPULARITY

Last night in the Hudson's Bay dining-room, the New Zealand lawn bowlers, touring Canada, were entertained at a complimentary dinner tendered by the bowlers of Greater Victoria and the City of Victoria. The chair was taken by Alderman Dewar, president of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, who also took the place of Mayor Penney, who was unavoidably absent. Preceding the dinner a group was singing in harmony by the visitors from New Zealand.

The proceedings throughout were marked by the greatest spirit of comradeship, a common interest in the game of bowls proving of the greatest assistance in uniting hosts and guests in a bond of fellowship. Participants in the dinner numbered about seventy-five, of whom twenty-eight were the New Zealand team and their wives.

Immediately after the dinner, the chairman proposed the royal toast.

Visiting Bowlers Will Play Local Rinks Today

MEMBERS of the touring New Zealand bowlers will be in action today against the pick of local players on the greens of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, at Beacon Hill, at 2:30 o'clock. A strong squad has been selected to carry the Capital City's colors into action against the visitors.

"God Save the King" and "O Canada" were sung, and the chairman addressed the company. He expressed appreciation at the touring bowlers' visit to what he described as the finest city in Canada. Last night, he said, Victoria had beaten a bowling team from the British Isles, and hoped to repeat the victory at an early date. He had noticed that the game was increasing in popularity in California and pointed out that California's star performers were of British origin.

Alderman Marchant, in responding to the toast, said he was a little doubtful of the result of today's match. But whatever the issue, he felt that the best friendships were always formed after a game of bowls. He always liked to feel that Drake was playing bowls on the eve of England's struggle with the Armada, and he pointed out that what chiefly recommended the game of bowls to him was the absence of professionalism. New Zealand, he said, had much in common with Vancouver Island. New Zealand also was an island, having wonderful climatic conditions and limitless resources.

"We are part and parcel of the same British Empire," said Alderman Marchant, "and we want no special flag, but glory in the old Union Jack," a remark which was enthusiastically received.

In responding to the toast, Mr. J. W. Hardley, president of the Dominion of New Zealand Lawn Bowlers' Association, said that the visitors had come to the dinner not as competitors, but as kinsmen. They were here to strengthen and deepen the bond of brotherhood between the two Dominions. On his tour through Europe and Canada he had seen many beautiful spots. He had seen the view from Stirling Castle. He considered the Pearl City of Canada, Toronto, as justly named the Empire City, but he considered Victoria "The City Beautiful."

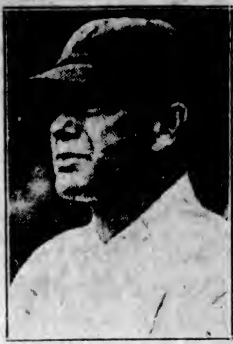

STANDING ADVERTISEMENT
"The immensity of Canada," he said, "which has staggered us all, is typified by the immensity of the hearts of the Canadian people who have made our tour so memorable. He had noticed how the men of Canada had striven to provide for future generations by building their cities with wide streets and fine parks, and he touched upon a scheme to turn some property in Auckland into civic grounds which had been donated through what he described as small-mindedness.

"We shall go back," said Mr. Hardley, "a standing advertisement not only of Canada, but also of Victoria." He informed the company that there was no country more like New Zealand than British Columbia. He sketched the conditions of New Zealand at the present moment. It was the richest country, he said, in proportion to the population, its wealth being estimated at $500 per capita. He concluded by testifying to the wonderful time which had been enjoyed on their tour through Canada.

Mr. J. L. White rose to propose the toast of "The Ladies," which was enthusiastically drunk. In responding, Mrs. J. W. Hardley thanked the hosts for their hospitality, which had gone far, she said, to cement the great opinion which the visitors had formed of Canada as a country, and Canadians as a people.

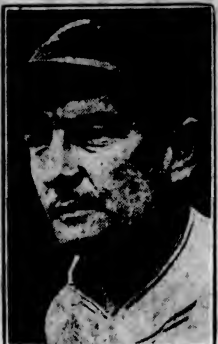

Between toasts an excellent humorous programme was rendered by Mr. George Inglewood, accompanied at the piano by Mr. W. T. Bridge.

Will They Come Through?

MILLER HIGGINS

Hard-working managers in the major leagues, who are throwing their utmost efforts, skill and baseball brains into their respective teams to keep them on top of the American and National Leagues, especially at this stage of the season, when the teams are on the home stretch, Higgins, big noise in the New York squad, is constantly bothered by the venerable Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, as to who is going to cop the American League flag.

BILL McKECHNIE

McKechnie, guide of the St. Louis Cardinals, is also being bothered by the Cubs, who are making great bids for the same pennant.

CARPET BOWLERS BUSY ORGANIZING

Large Gathering Attends Meeting for Purpose of Forming Sanctioned Carpet Bowling Club

That the New Zealand Bowling Association contained 308 clubs, the total membership of which was over 16,000.

There was no game, he mentioned, where it was so possible for men of all occupations to meet on common ground than the game of bowls. The game had made rapid strides in popularity in the Old Country. Twenty years ago there were 367 clubs in England as compared with 1,037 today, and the same percentage of increase applied to Scotland, Wales and Ireland.

The visiting team had played twenty-four games and lost three, and whatever the result of today's match, he was confident that they were going to meet kindred spirits and good sportsmen.

INVITATION EXTENDED
"I am sending an invitation," he said, "to the Canadian Lawn Bowlers' Association to send a team to New Zealand next January. If they do not accept, what about sending a team from British Columbia?"

Alderman James Adam then rose to extend a civic welcome to the visitors. It was unfortunate, he said, that their stay was to be so short. It was just a year since he had arrived back from a tour of New Zealand. The statistics of that country showed that football was the most popular sport, with bowling second. The green at Westport, he said, was the best in the world, and the interest shown in the game was enormous. He pointed out that the athletic field was the best of cementing the bonds of Empire, and cited his own experience in conducting the All-Canadian soccer team on a tour of New Zealand as an instance.

It Despard Twigg, M.P.P., offered the visitors a provincial welcome. A scheme, he said, which would send a crusade of bowlers on a world tour showed indomitable spirit. He outlined the natural resources of British Columbia, pointing to its mineral wealth, fishing industries, sheep farming possibilities and wealth of timber. The two Dominions had one great thing in common, he said, and that was absolute and loyal adherence to the Imperial flag. His speech was received tumultuous applause.

COUNTRYMEN ALIKE
In responding, Mr. J. H. Thomson said that there was no country more like New Zealand than British Columbia. He sketched the conditions of New Zealand at the present moment. It was the richest country, he said, in proportion to the population, its wealth being estimated at $500 per capita. He concluded by testifying to the wonderful time which had been enjoyed on their tour through Canada.

Mr. J. L. White rose to propose the toast of "The Ladies," which was enthusiastically drunk. In responding, Mrs. J. W. Hardley thanked the hosts for their hospitality, which had gone far, she said, to cement the great opinion which the visitors had formed of Canada as a country, and Canadians as a people.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

THE DOWNSWING IS OFTEN RUINED BY PRONATION EFFORT.

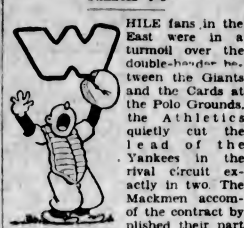

Must the player make a conscious effort to learn pronation?

By LAURIE AYTON

Pronation is a fine thing to forget. Don't worry about it at all. A conscious effort to roll or pronate the wrists will, as a rule, cause the player to take his club off the straight line in the down swing, and a poor shot will result. If the essentials of correct swing, grip, stance and pivot are developed, the pronation will more or less take care of itself. The word "pronation" is misleading and confusing to the average player, and he will progress faster by concentrating on the more important points of the game.

ATHLETICS CUT LEAD OF YANKS

Mackmen Defeat Detroit 6-1, While the White Sox Humble the Yankees 4-3

HILE fans in the East were in a turmoil over the double-header between the Giants and the Cards at the Polo Grounds, the Athletics quietly cut the lead of the Yankees in the rival circuit exactly in two. The Mackmen accomplished the feat by plucking their part of the contract by defeating Detroit 6-1, while the White Sox rushed to their aid by shading the Yankees 4-3, in twelve innings. The Yanks now lead by only one game. The standing:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.	Games Behind
New York	54	50	.520	0
Philadelphia	52	51	.509	1

One game against Boston dropped from schedule.

Nobody but the Cubs profited from proceedings at the Polo Grounds yesterday when Shanty Hogan, as the Athletics affectionately call him, lifted one into the left field stand on old Alexander the Great, in the eighth inning of the second game, to give the Clan McGraw an even break.

The Cards thus held their two-game lead over the Giants. Both New York and St. Louis were pulled down one game nearer the Cubs in defeats. Chicago was idle. The standing:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.	Games Behind
St. Louis	50	48	.510	0
New York	47	50	.484	3
Chicago	45	59	.433	10

Metropolitan Golf Champ Retains Title

GENE SARAZEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Gene Sarazen today successfully defended his Metropolitan professional golf championship by defeating Craig Wood, Forest Hills professional, in the final match of the tournament by 2 up and 1 to play.

portant dates in the golfing programme for 1929 leaves an interval of a full week between the Canadian and United States Amateur events, and it is more than likely, therefore, that the Canadian championships will attract a large number of stars in the United States and other countries who will be westward bound for the United States event.

Should these hopes be fulfilled—and every effort is to be made by the Royal Canadian Golf Association and the Canadian National Railways to bring them to fruition—the 1929 Canadian Amateur championship will be the greatest event in the history of golf in Canada.

BLACK IS THREE STROKES AHEAD IN GOLF MEET

Phil. Taylor, Local Professional, Is in Second Position for British Columbia's Highest Honors

FINAL ROUNDS TO BE COMPLETED

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20.—Playing superb golf in the first two rounds of the seventy-two-hole battle at the Shaughnessy Golf and Country Club for British Columbia's highest honors, Dave Black, Vancouver professional, led the field by two strokes at the end of today's play. Right behind him, and actually three strokes ahead of him on the morning thirty-six, Phil Taylor, of Victoria, another veteran of the links, dropped in the afternoon round and was three behind the leader at the end of the day.

Black's score was 149, made up by a 77 and a 72.

Taylor did the morning holes in a beautiful 74, but his rival's playing and a little slackening in his links, dropped in the afternoon round and was three behind the leader at the end of the day.

Down the list behind these two professionals, led by the powerful driving Dunc Sutherland with 154, and Arthur Shepherd, 155, come other British Columbia stars, including such figures as Big Moore, Charlie Perkins, Bonham and others. Big Moore won the low gross prize for amateurs on today's round with a score of 158 and Ray Phelps had the low net score of 43 with his handicap of 10 a round.

Big Moore plays Dave Black and Taylor meets James Wood tomorrow.

Our responsibility to the men who buy Tip Top Clothes

AT Tip Top Tailors, we try to be every bit as particular with the style, fit and making of a garment we sell at our standard price of $27 as if it were made to sell at $100.

This is only sound business sense. The man who can pay $100 for a suit of clothes doesn't need to worry very much if he should occasionally get a garment that doesn't absolutely satisfy him in every respect. But the man who pays $27 has to get satisfaction out of the garment he buys in any case.

Tip Top Tailors—even although they are the largest one-price tailors in the world—simply cannot afford to give any customer the slightest cause for dissatisfaction in his purchase. So, we cheerfully accept the responsibility for every garment we make and back up every sale with an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or money back. The result is that, among our regular customers, are thousands of men who could easily afford to pay $100, or more, for tailored-to-measure clothes.

JOE BAYLEY WILL ISSUE CHALLENGE

Manager of Tommy Fielding to Try and Land Bout With Winner of King-Carter Mix

Joe Bayley, former lightweight king of Canada, and at present managing Tommy Fielding, junior lightweight champion of Vancouver Island, announced last night that he will file a challenge for his protegee to the winner of the Ritchie King-Wildcat Carter bout, which will be held in Portland on September 25. Fielding, according to Bayley, is ripe for a crack at the winner of this bout. Regardless of what might happen, Fielding, providing, of course, the challenge is accepted, will be meeting one of the top notchers on the Pacific Coast. Since Tommy has been under the guiding hand of the former title holder, he has been active in eight bouts. He has won three via the knockout route, four by the judges' decision, and has lost one.

The complete record of the eight bouts mentioned is as follows: Tommy Burge, judges' decision. Bud Davies, Vancouver, technical knockout in the second round. Jackie Knott, Vancouver, technical knockout in the fifth round.

Dave Lewis, Victoria, judges' decision. Stoker Percy Lake, H.M.S. Durban, judges' decision. Stoker Percy Lake, H.M.S. Durban, lost, judges' decision.

It was decided to make an effort to increase the membership of the society, and for this purpose those present each took a supply of buttons. The membership fee is nominal. With each subscription the new member receives a button free. Subscriptions will be received by the secretary, Miss Bowron, and by the members of the committee, who are: Mesdames Beavan and J. H. H. Gillespie, Mr. Charles St. Barbe, president, and Messrs. C. C. Pemberton, A. R. Sherwood, Colonel Wolley Dod, and Alderman Worthington.

A committee was appointed to make preparations for the legislation which it is hoped will be passed at the next session of the Provincial Legislature.

National Council Film Being Shown

Several members of the Victoria Local Council of Women were present at the Coliseum Theatre last evening to see a film which pictures some episodes in the recent National Council of Women convention held in Toronto. The film arrived in the city yesterday morning, via the Provincial Council president, Mrs. Pailis, through whom it is being distributed to the various local councils in British Columbia. Immediately on its receipt, Miss Crease and Mrs. Holmes got into touch with the manager of the Coliseum, who consented to show it preceding the regular movie programme last night, tonight and tomorrow evening. THE ALL-AROUND CHAMPION

By Ripley

AMSTERDAM

During the athletic preparation in Amsterdam a slant-eyed Oriental from the opposite side of the globe attracted considerable attention. Miss Hitomi—Kinuyo Hitomi—looked to be about the fastest girl runner the experts had ever seen. She seemed faster than some of the male runners.

Subsequent happenings proved them wrong. Hitomi was beaten by the Canadian sprinters, but the fact remains that she is probably the greatest all-around athlete in the world. There is not an event at which she is not adept. She holds the world's record for the sprints, and can run the long distances equally well. She can hurdle, vault, jump, and at one time held the record for the discus throw.

She is unusually large—larger than her male teammates—and her masculine figure and muscular legs denote all power and speed. She can start as fast as any man and stride with any of them.

Miss Kinuyo came from Okayama, near Kobe in Japan. She started out to become a dancer (not a Geisha), but discovering that her legs possessed more speed than grace she changed her devotion to the cinder path. Lady Hitomi speaks good English and is quite intelligent. Like all good amateur athletes, she writes for newspapers. At present she is connected with The Tokio Nichi Nichi, one of the leading dailies of Japan.

"Hitomi—she big boy—not girl," is the way one of her teammates describes her.

BROWN'S CRITICISM

Old Mr. Brown was paying his first visit to London, and his son took him to hear a famous orchestra.

Young Brown watched his father's face anxiously for awhile, but seeing that he wore a contented expression congratulated himself on his choice of amusement for the old man.

Very little conversation was exchanged between the two, for the old man seemed loath to take his attention off the musicians.

But when a couple of hours later, after a final flourish of the violinist's bow, accompanied by a resounding crash on the drum, old man Brown gripped his son's arm and cried:

"Er, lad, but that last piece was great! It was a drol' heat!"

BUS CLUBS HIT GOVERNMENT

Motor clubs are giving officials of Australia, which own the railways of the country, a new problem. The clubs are composed of suburbanites of Melbourne who join together, pay an entrance fee and subscription, and the club buys a motor omnibus. Each club's membership is limited, and only members may use the buses that ply between each suburb and the city. The buses therefore do not "ply for hire," but "carry their owners," and thus avoid the bus tax. They have caught the suburbanites' fancy to such an extent that the Minister of Railways is complaining of the growing competition, which he says is no more than an evasion of the law.

SAYS ENGLISH GIRLS FADING

Suggestion by Senora Herrera, the charming wife of Senor Louis Herrera, head of the Uruguayan Mission in London, that English girls are not so beautiful as before the World War, has caused a shock and a lively discussion in England. Senora Herrera is a leader of society in South America, and was in London before the big conflict. She recently declared that the girls then were shy, but womanly; modest, but clever, and they had gorgeous complexions, with rich waves and curls in their hair. In her opinion they were the most beautiful girls in the world. At their best, the senora said, modern girls are just pretty and live the lives of acrobats. The remarks have caused much argument, and some antagonism among both male and female champions of English girls of today.

AMATEUR BOXING WILL BE RESUMED

Tillamook Athletic Club Will Start Simon-Pure Card Next Month—Gym Open for Training

The Simon-pure mitt thrower who last year presented some interesting and thrilling bouts, will soon be in action again. The officials of the Tillamook Athletic Club are busy getting things in shape for another big season and promise to stage their first card early next month.

Last year some good boxers were exploited in the many amateur shows which were staged, and it is hoped to bring the greater share of these lads back in the ring this year. Considerable expense has been created by securing the services of Dusty Miller as boxing instructor. Miller is known as the colored sensation of the Pacific Coast, and his knowledge that he is capable of imparting to the local Simon-pure should increase their stock immensely.

The gymnasium will be open every night with the exception of Saturday and Sunday, during which instruction will be given free of charge by Dusty Miller.

BASEBALL IN THE TROPICS

Baseball, written with a style as fervid as the tropical sun under which the game is played, is served to readers of the "Tropical Sun," the first and only English language newspaper published in Venezuela. In reporting a recent game at Cabimas, the sporting editor wrote, "Mr. Hubert and his cork screw deliver burst across the pitching firmament of a local ballroom in a blaze of glory at Cabimas Field this afternoon and left a trail of bruised, battered and baffled batters in his wake. One by one the Gulf's murderer row faced his mystifying contortions and one by one they failed to connect. Before they found out what it was all about the game was all over and the Lagoon had tightened their hold on the flag by 2-0 victory." Then follows a detailed story of the game in the same style.

SAY TRIAL MARRIAGE OLD

Companionate marriage is arousing only mild interest in Scotland because the Scotch say that the idea is the same as "trial marriage," which was common in that country before the Reformation. The ceremony was called "handfasting" and Sir Walter Scott refers to it in "The Monastery," where he makes Sir John Avenel say, "We take our wives like we take our horses—a trial. When we are handfasted," we term it, we are man and wife for a year and a day. That space passed, each may choose another mate, or at their pleasure may call a priest to marry them for life." It has been suggested that the Scotch custom emanated from ancient Rome.

Browne had arrived in town on holiday, to find himself stranded. "Well, here's a pretty state of affairs," he said to himself, and entered a restaurant to partake of a reasonable dinner. He seated himself at a table and a depressed-looking waiter sauntered up to him. "Have you any roast turkey?" asked Browne.

"Er—no sir."

"Any roast chicken or goose?"

"Er—no, sir."

"Well, I suppose you have some beef or mutton or something like that, haven't you?"

"Er—no, sir."

"Bless my soul, man!" exclaimed Browne. "What have you got the place then?"

"Er—the bailliffs, sir," answered the waiter, disconsolately.

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 2—Declarer plays Clubs, hoping for a break that will enable him to take three tricks in the suit, but permits West to hold the first trick, under-playing with Dummy's 9 instead of the 6, to be in tenace position later over East, should West's Queen fall to Dummy's King on the next round of the suit. Dummy's King was held up not only as a possible means of making an additional Club trick, but also for later use as a card of entry should necessity for such use arise.

Trick 8—The entry into Dummy with the King of Clubs enables him to make the Ace of Spades.

Trick 9—Declarer takes the Club finesse, made possible only by the play of the impending 9 of Clubs instead of the 5 to the second trick.

The importance of being well groomed

BEING well dressed inspires a man's confidence in himself as well as in the people with whom he comes in contact. The knowledge that his personal appearance is above reproach puts him at his ease under any and all circumstances. Whether the occasion be business or social, the well-dressed man is never ill at ease.

Being well dressed does not necessarily involve an expensive nor elaborate wardrobe—it does, however, involve a thorough up-to-the-minute knowledge of "what the well-dressed men are wearing today." Familiarity with this subject is quite easily acquired by reading the advertising of the men's furnishing goods stores which appear regularly in this newspaper. . . . This reading costs you nothing, and takes but little time, yet the knowledge thus acquired will materially assist you in being well dressed—economically.

HIGH SCHOOL HEAD SPEAKS AT NANAIMO

Addresses Parent-Teachers' Meeting on Technical Education—Says B.C. Is Behind

NANAIMO, Sept. 20.—The meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association last evening was marked by the address of J. G. Lister, principal of Vancouver Technical High School, delivered at an address on "Technical Education." Mr. Lister said that the present system is inadequate for present-day needs, and that revision of our educational system is taking place. Mr. Lister, who recently completed a tour of the United States and Canada, during which he visited numerous technical institutions, asserted that British Columbia is not keeping pace with the progress that is being made along these lines. Mr. Lister also prophesied that the next generation would see the revision of our system an accomplished fact.

In the near future the P.T.A. will have the opportunity of hearing Major King, principal of the Kitimat Junior High School, deliver an address in the Junior High School.

Mrs. R. T. Wilson extended a welcome to the exchange teacher, Miss Gray, from Glasgow, the new member of the high school staff, and Miss Armstrong, the school nurse.

The association has donated a prize for essays written on the subject of the "League of Nations."

City Takes Action Against Its Mayor

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 20.—It is very seldom that a city has to take legal action against its own mayor, but such is the case in Port Alberni, where the city has retained Mr. Gordon Campbell as solicitor to commence action against Mayor Kendall. The city claims that its mayor owes $107 for light, power and water supplied, whereas the mayor denies that he owes anything. The corporation, being the owner of the electricity and water utilities, has decided to have the matter settled by court proceedings.

Bobby Coon Meets Cubby Bear
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Suspect the gift too freely offered; find first the reason it is proffered.

—Cubby Bear.

Bobby Coon had gone over to the Laughing Brook. Bobby is very fond of the Laughing Brook. He loves to play in the water. He loves to catch fish and he likes to eat them as well as he likes to catch them. He is never happier than when he is prowling along the bank of the Laughing Brook.

Now, Bobby Coon is a happy-go-lucky fellow. By the time he reached the Laughing Brook he had forgotten all about Whitefoot the Wood Mouse, whom he had vainly tried to get out of the hollow log. He washed his hands, combed his hair and then decided he would see if he could catch a few minnows in a certain little pool. He knew all about that little pool. He knew that the minnows dearly loved to play about in it where it was very shallow. If one were quick enough a minnow could be scooped out of that little pool. Bobby had a favorite spot from which he fished. He stole to this very softly. The moonlight lay on the little pool, but Bobby was in the blackest of Black Shadows. Bobby had been there only a little while when a school of minnows began to play about. They would come to the surface and make little rings in the water. Bobby's eyes sparkled. Fish would be better than a Wood Mouse. Just as Bobby was about to try for one of those minnows he heard the shuffling of feet, and out on the bank stepped Cubby Bear. In the moonlight he looked like a living Black Shadow. When he stepped out that way all the minnows disappeared in a hurry. Bobby Coon was provoked. He wasn't afraid of Cubby Bear. He wouldn't want to get in a fight with Cubby, but Cubby was not yet big enough for Bobby to respect him, as he did great big Buster Bear. Bobby stepped out of his hiding place.

"What do you mean by spoiling my fishing?" he demanded angrily.

Cubby Bear merely grinned. "Why didn't you tell me you were fishing?" said he. "How do you suppose that I knew you were fishing? Did you get any fish?"

"No," replied Bobby shortly. "I would have if you hadn't come along and frightened them all away. What right have you to go prowling around and meddling with other people's business?"

Cubby was feeling good-natured. He usually is good-natured. "Next time," said he, "you let me know when you're fishing and I'll keep away. I like fish myself. Fish are very nice eating. I would rather have some nice tender Mice, but fish will do very well."

At the mention of Mice, Bobby Coon suddenly remembered Whitefoot the Wood Mouse. A plan suddenly popped into his head. "Would you really like a Mouse if you could get it?" said he.

Cubby's eyes sparkled. "Would I?" he exclaimed. "I should say I would!" Cubby licked his lips.

"If I show you where there is one will you keep away from the Laughing Brook until I am through fishing?" Bobby asked.

Cubby Bear looked at Bobby a little suspiciously. "If you know where there is one, why don't you get one yourself?" he demanded.

"I can't," replied Bobby promptly. "He's in a hollow log that I can't tear open, but I think you can."

"Just show me that log!" exclaimed Cubby. "Just show me that log!"

"If I do, will you promise to keep away from the Laughing Brook until I get through fishing?" demanded Bobby.

"I certainly will," replied Cubby. "It's a bargain."

ROAD WORK IS UNDER REVIEW

MAHAHAT BOARD OF TRADE DISCUSSES HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENTS

Village Point Will Be Favored as New Location for Ferry Landing

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Sept. 20.—The monthly meeting of the Mahahat Board of Trade was held in the hall last night. Various correspondence with the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island was considered, and a report of the annual meeting at Qualicum was presented by the delegate, Lieutenant-Colonel F. T. Oldham. The public works committee reported that the road from the West Arm of the Lake to the sawmill had been completed, and that the cut-off road is being widened from Mahahat Station to Fitzgerald's Hill, the presumption being that it will be tarred. Information was sought as to whether this road is to be an alternative to the Mahahat Drive, in which case the road from Shawnigan Lake to Cobble Hill should be straightened out. The assistant district engineer will be informed of the bad state of the Island Highway south of the Mill Bay Garage, which is in urgent need of attention. As Shawnigan Lake is now at its lowest, steps will be taken to have the outlet cleared of debris.

The committee on agriculture reported that the district is remarkably free from weeds, particularly Canada thistle, but recommending that one or two bad places should be warned or proceeded against.

A resolution was passed and will be forwarded to the Saanich Board of Trade favoring Village Point as the site of a new ferry slip in the event of the present wharf being abandoned. The board also expressed the opinion that this should be made of a permanent character. The question of the proposed flume at Cowichan River came up for discussion, but no action was taken, as the members were not sufficiently acquainted with the facts.

The president, Mr. G. A. Cheeks was in the chair, and there were also present, Lieutenant-Colonel F. T. Oldham, Lieutenant-Colonel L. J. Whitaker, Messrs. S. J. Heald, F. T. Elford, N. G. Alexander, H. E. Hawking, and Mr. J. C. Rathbone, secretary.

MRS. R. B. HALHEID OF CHEMAINUS PASSES
Was Prominent Resident of Upland City for the Past Thirty Years

CHEMAINUS, Sept. 20.—Cheminus has lost today by the death of Mrs. R. B. Halheid one of its oldest residents. Born in Canterbury England, seventy years ago, she with her husband and family, came out to British Columbia in 1899 and settled at Shawnigan Lake. After residing there for nine years, they came to Chemainus, where they have remained since 1908.

Mrs. Halheid was greatly missed in the community, where for so many years she has always taken a leading part in local public organizations. A member of the first Chemainus Hospital Auxiliary, she was for many years its president and was instrumental in organizing the Agnes Keyser Chapter, I.O.O.F., being regent for many years. She also took an active interest in the Girl Guide and Boy Scout movement.

TRAIN ROBBER STILL SOUGHT

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY OFFERS REWARD OF $2,500 FOR APPREHENSION

Bandit Held Up Train Leaving Los Angeles for Seattle on September 13, 1928.

A reward of $2,500 is announced today by E. J. Hendry, Canadian general agent of Southern Pacific Lines, Vancouver, B.C., for information leading directly to the arrest and conviction of the bandit who held up passengers on train No. 75, the Lark, leaving Los Angeles September 13, 1928.

The masked bandit boarded the club car of the Coast train and, armed with two automatics, took over $800 from the twenty-three passengers in the car. He made a quiet exit from the car as it approached Glendale, Cal., and vanished into the darkness as the train came to a stop. He was described as follows: Age, around thirty; height, about five feet, nine inches; weight, about 160 pounds; dressed in dark suit, brown fedora hat turned down in front, brown shoes. At the time of the robbery he wore a bluish handkerchief as a mask over his face and heavy tortoiseshell rimmed glasses.

Hendry announced that the company would use every means at its command to capture the bandit. He said that all clues or other information concerning the bandit would be followed and that the person giving information leading to the arrest and conviction would be rewarded. Such information should be wired collect to D. O'Connell, chief special agent, Southern Pacific Company, San Francisco, Cal., or to L. P. Morris, superintendent, Southern Pacific, Los Angeles.

First Prairie Air Express

LUSCIOUS MELONS RAISED NEAR CITY

Mr. E. Ensley, of Ruby Street, Shows What Can Be Done on Suburban Property

Apparently there is no limit to the class of fruit or flower that can be grown on Vancouver Island. In the famous Gordon Head fruit growing district, a quarter of a mile along Ruby Road, off Shelbourne Street, lies the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ensley.

A pretty little cream and green bungalow, nestling in a labyrinth of flowers, is there to greet and please the eye. Who would guess what mystery this pleasant little homestead has to reveal? Watermelons, cantaloupes, muskmelons, honeydews, are growing in abundance. A strip about 200 feet by ten, running parallel with the back fence, comprises this wondrous melon patch. Not a lot of stunted, miserable little things the size of peanuts, but fine, healthy vines just bristling with the most delicious-looking large, long, luscious fruit.

Mr. Ensley tried this for an experiment. The first year was quite a success, the next year more so, while this year shows a tremendous increase, to such an extent as to prove the project of commercial value. This year half a ton of watermelons were picked, not to mention a hundred cantaloupes, 125 muskmelons, eighty honeydews, and forty-five Persian melons, and real melons at that, just as large and portentious-looking as those in the grocer's window. In order that people can be convinced of the quality of these melons, Mr. Ensley kindly placed one in The Colonist window, the melon weighing twenty pounds.

Meat growing on the Ensley land is more or less of a small issue, and all manner of small fruits, vegetables and a quarter ton having been picked off one acre and a quarter. Black currants, blackberries and tomatoes grow in profusion, and walnut trees and grapevines are growing abundantly.

Throughout the property is the mark of neatness and precision, the result of great diligence and care on the part of the who tills the soil. Few there are, while passing along Ruby Street, can resist pausing a moment on seeing this attractive place. Some of these passers-by may be fortunate enough to find the proprietor at work. This meeting might develop into a friendly chat, and furthermore to an invitation to be shown over the premises, in which case the invitation should not be refused.

PULVERIZED COAL USED ON VESSEL ON LONG VOYAGE

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The Blue Star liner Stuartstar has completed a 13,000-mile voyage with one of her boilers fired exclusively by pulverized coal.

Officials of the Blue Star Company said that efficiency of the boiler had been increased from eighteen to twenty per cent. The absence of ashes and clinkers enabled the engineers on the vessel to maintain an even steam pressure, thus obtaining the same average speed at lower power.

Widespread Speculative Un-

Rates Reflected in Price
Movement

OUTSIDE FUNDS
CEASE TO COME

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Eratric price movement in today's stock market reflected the widespread speculative uneasiness over the current high money rates. Prices generally held well in the face of successive advances in the call money from 7-1/2 to 8-1/2 and 9 per cent, which high rate has been exceeded only by the temporary 10 per cent rate on 100-day bills. Final stock quotations disclosed marked irregularity, a long list of net gains ranging from 1 to 8 points being offset by almost as many losses of equal extent.

Banks called upwards of $30,000,000 in loans during the day with little new money making its appearance for loans on brokers' collateral. The weekly report of brokers' loans by the New York Federal Reserve Bank showed an increase of $85,285,000, bringing the total to $1,470,476,000. There was no change in the New York Federal Reserve discount rate of 5 per cent.

The New York Stock Exchange reported that member loans of $5,137,405 on September 19 were 8.80 per cent of the market value of stocks listed, as against 9 per cent on August 1 and 8.06 per cent on September 1, 1927. Time money and commercial paper rates held firm.

Although sterling cables touched 14.85, a new low level for the year, to announcement was made regarding the import of gold.

Motor shares were again in the vanguard of today's advance. General Motors moved up 4-1/2 points to a new high of 212-1/2, closing at the top on persistent rumors of a 50 per cent stock dividend at the next meeting of the directors. Packard Motors, which announced the successful tests of a new four-cylinder airplane motor, climbed nearly 9 points to a new peak at 91-3/4, closing at the top on realizing Briggs manufacturing.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

WELL

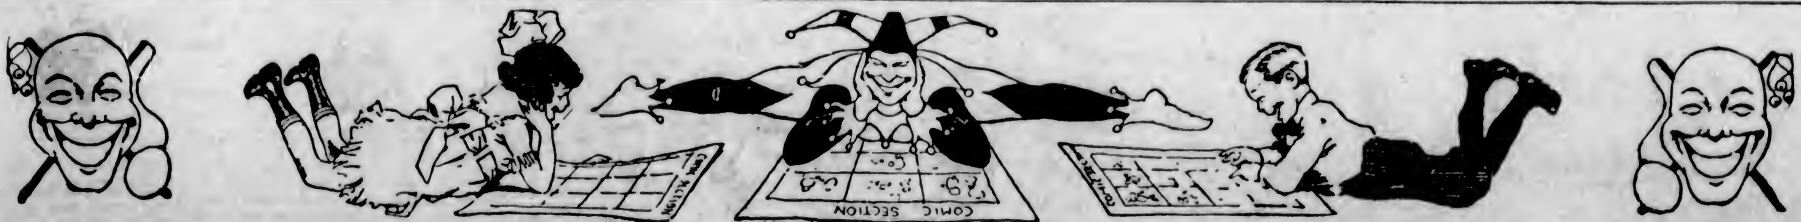

A man who once stayed for a month in a small hotel with Kipling in an out-of-the-way part of France found the great man an economic miser.

"From the beginning of the month till the end," he tells me, "I don't think I heard Mr. Kipling utter more than a few dozen words though I was often in his company along with other hotel guests. He mixed freely, going to all the picnics and attended all the concerts, but he did not speak. He listened, grunted, nodded, and the Americans among the visitors."—London Passing Show.

TASTE IN ART IS PROGRESSING

Mr. W. J. Morton, Representative of London Art Firm, Visiting Here, Finds Appreciation Growing

A really remarkable advance in art appreciation in Canada during the past five or six years is noted by Mr. W. J. Morton, representative of Cooling's Galleries, London, who is here with his annual exhibition of pictures. Although this is only Mr. Morton's fifth transcontinental trip, and the first, incidentally, in which he has brought his exhibition unpacked to Victoria in order to give buyers here an opportunity to select from the cream of the collection, he has been coming to Canada for the last twenty years and is, therefore, well qualified to judge the growth of art appreciation in this country. Five years ago, he says, he could sell pictures only up to a value of $250 or so; today it was almost a waste of time to travel through the country with works of that calibre. In his present collection, numbering eighty-four, nearly half the number range in price from $250 to $5,000. Price, of course, connotes recognized mastery of the artist, and this in turn indicates that Canadians are at last "collecting" in the true sense of selecting their pictures with discrimination and an eye to the future value of the canvas.

At this point Mr. Morton made another interesting observation. Canadians have a strong predilection for oil paintings. Last year he shipped back to London between fifty and sixty pictures, and of these he could find no market in this country. This gave him the cue in making up his present collection, which predominates in oils. Canada has developed three quite independent, unaffiliated by Old Country preferences. There the water color still has a vogue. Speaking more generally, Mr. Morton says that the story-telling type of picture is the best seller. Collectors in this country very obviously like this kind of subject. Canadian artists he has found very generous as patrons of art, and many of his best works have gone to their studios.

One of the secondary results of his exhibitions in Canada has been the interest which Canadian visitors to London show in the galleries there. Year after year he meets an increasing number of people from this side in the Cooling Galleries, and quite 50 per cent of its business is done with collectors from this side. Mr. Morton's, incidentally, is only one of four sent to this continent this year by Cooling's, another collection remaining in Eastern Canada and two exhibitions now being on tour through the United States. It is at the special request of numbers of British Columbia art lovers and collectors that he has started his exhibition at the Pacific Coast this year, as some complaint has been made in the past that by the time he reaches Victoria and Vancouver the best of his collection has been disposed of. He will be here three weeks, showing at Somers'.

SALMON PACK ON FRASER HAS ANOTHER DROP

Decline Is Subject of Explanation by Deputy Commissioner, After Visit to Upper Fraser River

SEASON TOO EARLY TO REACH DECISION

Mr. John P. Babcock, Assistant Commissioner of Fisheries for the province, has returned from his annual trip over the upper Fraser River basin seeking information as to the seeding of the spawning areas by sockeye salmon.

In a preliminary report made to Hon. S. L. Howe, Commissioner of Fisheries, he gives the situation as it presented itself to him during his visit to the spawning grounds. With the sockeye situation in the Fraser in anything but a promising condition Mr. Babcock is not able to hold out any great encouragement for the future. His preliminary report to the minister is as follows:

"Sockeye salmon in numbers made their appearance at Hell's Gate canyon in the Fraser above Yale in July. A few were seen there as early as May. The July run was the largest in many years, but the August run was very light, lighter than usual. The July fish were exceptionally large fat fish. In this connection it is to be noted that the sockeye caught in Juan de Fuca Strait and in the lower Fraser in July and August were much larger in size than those taken there for many years.

"Sockeye in numbers entered the Chilcotin River July 25 and ran until August 8. Another school entered that river August 19 and ran until August 21. During those periods the Chilcotin Indians, at their three fishing stations, took upwards of 1,900 sockeye. Their catches more than doubled any catch made by them in any one of the last twelve years, and reports from Chilco Lake indicate that many hundreds had reached there and would spawn.

"Some two hundred and fifty sockeye were counted in Bowron River at the head of Bowron Lake, the main sockeye spawning tributary of the north fork of the Fraser. The fish seen there, like those noted in the Chilcotin and other sections, were exceptionally large.

"But seven sockeye were observed entering Quesnel Lake up to September 8. None were found in Mitchell River, one of the main tributaries of Quesnel Lake, and only a few in a tributary of the Horsefly River.

"Sockeye in numbers were seen in the lower Thompson River in July. They appear to have passed up to the North Thompson River—for the Indians on one of its tributaries caught several hundred—and no sockeye were observed in any of the tributaries of Shuswap Lake.

"While the run to the Chilcotin River this season was the largest in many years it is not to be understood that their numbers compared favorably with even the poor run in the years before the Fraser was so depleted of sockeye, or that the result of their spawning will materially add to the run four years hence. In earlier years the Chilcotins caught and smoked over 100,000 sockeye—all they appeared to desire.

"The salmon pack statements issued by Major Motherwell, chief inspector for the Dominion in British Columbia, up to September 8, give the total pack of sockeye taken from the Fraser at 21,910 cases, as against 22,694 cases in 1927, 32,672 cases in 1926, 27,635 cases in 1925 and 33,818 cases in 1924. From which it will be noted that the catch this year is 11,000 cases less than at the same period four years ago, and the smallest made up to this date in any of the five years.

"It is much too early to form an estimate of the sockeye run to Lillooet and other lakes in the lower Fraser basin, and it will be recalled that in 1926 and 1927 several hundred thousand sockeye reached the Shuswap area, in October and spawned in Adams and Little Rivers."

BRITISH COLUMBIA COATS GOING EAST

With a view to obtaining some of the high class coats for which British Columbia has made a reputation, Mrs. A. Williams, of the firm of G. & A. Williams, Honeywood Goat-ery, Oakville, Ont., has spent the past week among goat breeders here. The stock which she wanted to get, that is, the best types of heavy-milking Saenens and first class Saanen bucks, is just the class of stock, however, which breeders were not anxious to part with, but Mrs. Williams has bought three fine grade Saenens, viz. Tyler's Dixie, from Tyler's Goat Dairy, and Sheila Cordova, from Miss J. E. Harvey, Victoria, and Cranley Mitzel, from Mr. F. B. Montell, North Vancouver, and has taken these does back to Ontario with her. They are all well-known goats which have been consistent prize winners at the large shows for several years and will undoubtedly be of great assistance in breeding up a better class of stock in Ontario.

The best bucks were either sold or reserved by breeders, but Mrs. Williams has made arrangements with two breeders to secure one or two buck kids next year. She has also arranged to purchase some of the best of next year's doe kids, and if these turn out all right, she intends to come back for more.

FIND ROMAN HOUSE ON RHINE

Excellent specimens of a Roman house and farm buildings of a wealthy land owner were recently found on the Rhine by an expedition from the Cologne Museum. Dr. Premersdorf, who conducted the excavation, says that the central building was rectangular, about 160 feet long, and contained three separate apartments. He judges that the buildings date from 400 years before Christ, and that they were reconstructed at six different periods. The whole was enclosed by a stone wall, and attached to it were two cemeteries. In large stone sarcophagi the excavators found everything that was used at a funeral feast, including remains of food and drink.
